Location of JESD Portable Schools Hit by Residents

By FRANK LA PIERRE

Relocatable classrooms at Fernando Rivera School in Daly City have come under increasing criticism from parents whose children attend the school, residents of the area and even some school board trustees.

Two trustees of the Jefferson Elementary School District — Mrs. Dorothy Adams and Mrs. Beverly Forrester — have charged a felony has been committed in securing and constructing some of the portable units at Fernando Rivera and at least one other site in the city.

They allege Superintendent Frank L. Greenwood and his assistant, Roger Barthuli, knowingly violated state codes dealing with the relocatables. But they do not know why.

Greenwood and Barthuli have repeatedly denied the accusations.

Superintendent Greenwood has blamed ignorance of the law on the issue for putting the classrooms in their present location at the Fernando Rivera School.

Meanwhile, the engineering firm of G. A. Sedgewick has been called in to draw up plans and specifications and submit them to the appropriate state architectural offices for approval. Cost of this service: not to exceed $3,000.

The location of the portables at Fernando Rivera, M. Pauline Brown and Colma Intermediate, is considered temporary by Greenwood.

The superintendent said the units would be moved to a more permanent site "as soon as the trustees make a decision on location of a seventh and eighth grade school" in the district.

However, residents of the posh Westlake Estates neighborhood adjacent to the units last week lodged bitter complaints against their installation.

Led by homeowner Joseph Sarto, one resident referred to the classrooms as "shacks" and called for their removal.

Trustee Forrester said erection of the units on their present site was in violation of the State Education Code; that a felony had been committed, and, "we are trying to do something about it."

The man responded by informing the board "if that's the case you have some very incompetent people on your staff."

Sarto said residents of his area had paid handsomely for their homes, which have since suffered in value as a result of the portable units installed. Not only were they unsightly, Sarto complained, but extremely noisy when the air conditioning and heating units were running.

Among the charges leveled against the structures was their closeness to the boundary fence, lack of adequate exits in case of fire or earthquake, location of some master electrical cut-off switches in the shop classroom, and non-existence of water in the art class.

The makeup of the school board has been split dramatically in recent years with each side accusing the other of "playing politics."

In this case, District Attorney Keith Sorenson was asked for an opinion on the issue.

On Feb. 1, 1972, the District Attorney's Office replied to the JESD board.

It was not a "full and complete investigation" of the issue the DA confessed, but it had been determined on the basis of information submitted that the district "has not complied with . . . sections of the Education Code."

Sections violated were cited and an opinion given.

The sore thumb of the matter was the system of obtaining the latest classrooms from an organization known as "Speedspace." The firm was the only company to bid for the right to furnish the structures on a seven-year lease-purchase plan at a sum of $16,198 per year—a total of some $113,386. (Speedspace went out of business last month following an anti-trust suit, The Times learned.)

Through a series of events, both Trustees Adams and Forrester said they began to question the original bid price and a subsequent change order presented during a special meeting on August 17, 1971, which called for an additional sum of $8,725 for plumbing and foundations at Fernando Rivera School.

This change order exceeded 10 per cent of the original contract bid, Mrs. Adams and Mrs. Forrester pointed out in a letter to then-Board Chairman William Schumacher, and caused them "some concern."

Further, the seven-year lease-purchase agreement concerned them, the trustees said. They felt both items were in violation of section 15963 of the Education Code.

Greenwood was instructed to ask the dis-

Restroom Repairs Set

Public Pressure On JESD

By FRANK LA PIERRE

After pigeonholing requests for repairs to children's toilets over the past ten years at four Daly City schools, public pressure has forced school administrators to finally take action.

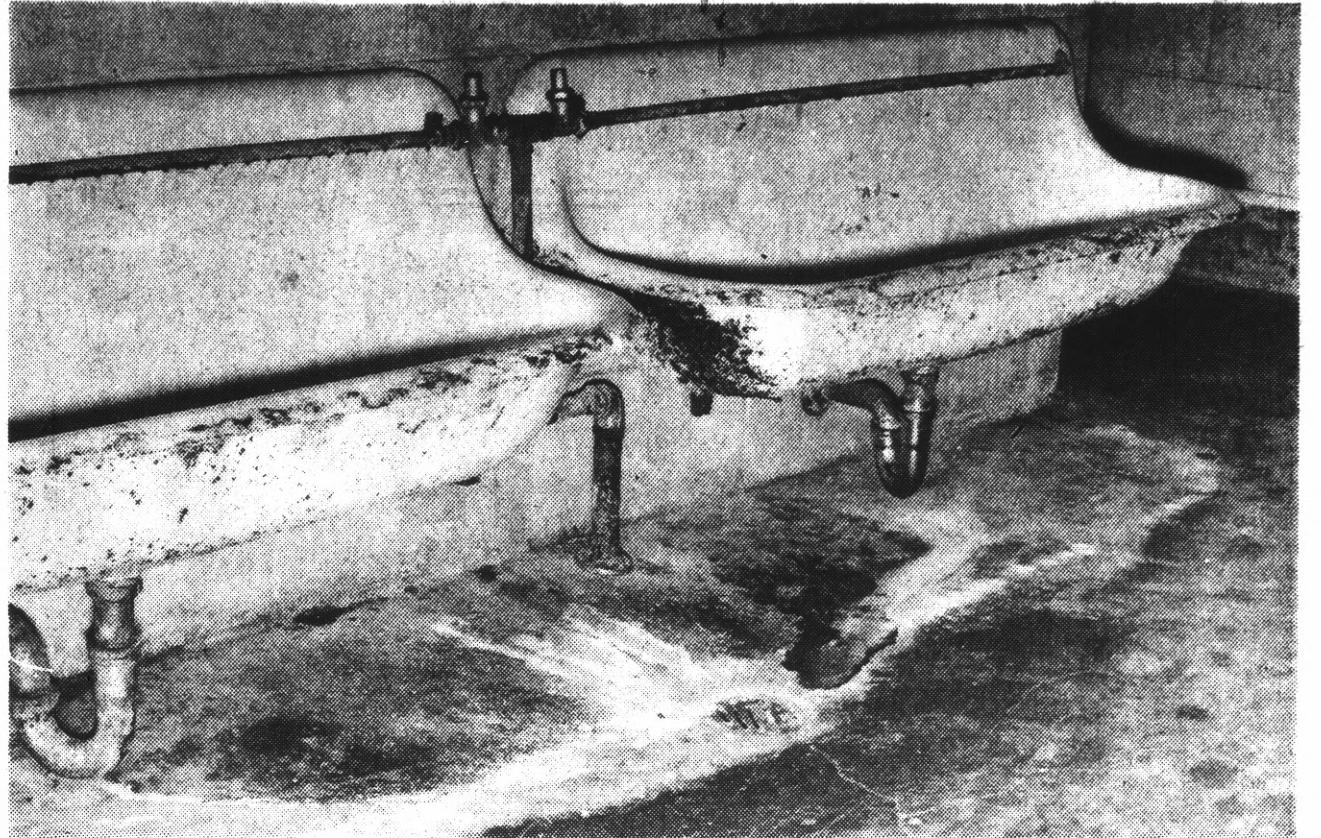

The Jefferson Elementary School district's Board of Trustees, prompted by increasing complaints from parents last week approved the spending of some $16,000 to repair children's toilets at four schools.

A number of parents had voiced strong complaints to the administration and trustees that the toilets at Vista Mar, Thomas Edison, Daniel Webster and Abraham Lincoln were so dirty and smelly that their children either faced the day without visiting a toilet or ran home to use their own facility.

Parents were not the only ones complaining about the toilets it was learned.

Vista Mar Principal Miss Marjorie Tobias in May, 1961 noted in a work order that plaster was falling in the restrooms endangering the safety of children and the air was foul because of the lack of ventilation.

The plaster in the girls' toilet was repaired within the past several months—ten years after it was called to the attention of the district.

TOILET facilities found at Vista Mar School.

Subsequent work orders support the initial request, records show.

On May 24, 1971 School Nurse Pat Nordstrom reported the need for bringing the Vista Mar toilets up to standards for good health to school maintenance chief Ed Jose. His reply to Miss Nordstrom was less than encouraging. The matter was shelved.

The Vista Mar School is one of the finest schools in the state—architecturally speaking. It won national acclaim for its exterior design when it opened more than a decade ago.

Functionally, it is a white elephant because of cost cutbacks ordered to achieve the design factor. When the cost cuts came the toilets were the first to suffer.

Not only have the urinal walls in the boys' toilets become soiled, but the floor is stained from leaking pipes; metal holders have rusted and rotted out; there is inadequate ventilation in many of the toilets; and at Vista Mar little children parade by rows of garbage and trash cans stored in a passageway because no provision was made for storage elsewhere.

Last week parent Dave Parker, an outspoken critic of the district administration, charged his child was coming home with backaches and stomach cramps as a result of refusing to use the restroom.

Vista Mar Principal Bob Abbey inherited the restroom problem from his predecessor, Miss Tobias.

Since taking over the school, Abbey has filed work orders to have the same work done that

Greenwood Offers His Explanation

By FRANK LA PIERRE

Jefferson Elementary School District Superintendent Frank L. Greenwood has said he was unaware of restrictions governing erection of portable classrooms in Daly City in the wake of bitter criticism from parents, homeowners and two school trustees.

However, the school district gave detailed instructions to bidders on the project which clearly outlines both the scope of work to be done and rules and regulations that must be complied with regarding such classrooms the Post has learned.

It has been charged the school district put up the portable classrooms at the Fernando Rivera School in violation of state laws.

Homeowners adjacent to the classroom site recently complained to the Board of Trustees in a signed petition that the buildings were little more than shacks and took away from property values.

They demanded the structures be removed and those responsible be identified and punished.

Trustees Mrs. Beverly Forrester and Mrs. Dorothy Adams have condemned the portables and charged Greenwood with breaking the law in the methods employed in leasing and erection of the structures.

Greenwood said he was unaware of the restrictions and added that the matter was little more than a misunderstanding.

Material sent to bidders disputes this stand by the superintendent. In a three page document titled simply "Special Conditions," there are two sections (A-1 and B-9) which deal with providing a level site for the portables.

One of the procedures questioned by trustees Adams and Forrester was the payment of some $8,000 to prepare a level site and pour foundations for the classrooms in addition to the lease-purchase cost of the classrooms themselves.

They said the school administration returned to the trustees for the additional monies after the initial bid from the now-defunct Speedspace company was accepted.

Condition A-1 states the school district will provide a level site (within 9" in 30 feet) in compliance with the State of California Division of Architecture and Construction.

And, again, in section B-9 it points out that a foundation for these structures must comply with Title 21 of the Administrative Code, Office of Architecture and Construction.

The JESD had to employ an engineer to prepare paperwork and submit it to the State Office of Architecture after the "irregularities" were discovered and pointed out.

JESD Administrators Gave Selves Retroactive Raises

Top administration officials in the Jefferson Elementary School District, including Superintendent Frank L. Greenwood, quietly pushed through a retroactive pay raise for themselves along with district teachers last December.

The action was in apparent violation of an Attorney General's opinion issued in October 1968 (68-216) dealing with the relationship between a school superintendent and certificated employees.

Teachers in the JESD are certificated as is Superintendent Greenwood and his assistants, Roger Barthuli and Vinton Stratton.

The matter was brought to light recently when the four member school board of trustees, prior to the election of James Cranna, voted on March 14, 1972 to transfer $157,700 from the undistributed reserve fund to miscellaneous salary classifications. Purpose of the transfer, it was explained, was to clear deficits due to salary increases.

Certificated employees (teachers) had been given a two per cent cost of living increase during a special board meeting on December 21, 1971 attended by trustees William Schumacher, Mrs. Dorothy Adams and Mrs. Beverly Forrester. This pay hike was meant only for teachers and not for the administrators, according to the three trustees.

It was the first time in Greenwood's career with the JESD that his salary had been tied to teachers. The superintendent was out of town at the time of the trustees' action and assistant Barthuli represented him at the meeting.

It was the consensus of those administrators attending the meeting that the trustees intended for them to be included, Greenwood said.

Greenwood himself acknowledged the pay raise.

He said sometimes the board took separate action on such matters and other times they included the administration in an overall action, such as the December pay action.

But district records show that

Rosano Raps New Courthouse Jail

By BOB PETERSON

There was nothing but praise for the aesthetic architecture of the new wing of the Northern Judicial District Courthouse in Monday's dedication—until after the ceremonies.

That's when South San Francisco Police Chief Sal Rosano toured the new wing's jail holding facilities and said they were "totally inadequate to serve the need for which they were designed."

Rosano was quick to point out that "generally this court facility is an excellent building but this (holding facility) is a deficiency I am concerned with."

He said that as the chief of police in the city in which the facility is located he feels he is responsible for its security and has an obligation to residents.

Rosano laid the blame on the County Board of Supervisors for not building a separate detention facility as a contiguous part of the courtroom facility.

"This opportunity (for a North County detention facility) is still possible," said Rosano. "The Sheriff (Earl Whitmore) has recommended it for two years." The Board of Supervisors ignored his requests, and have subsequently ignored the requests of all the chiefs, mayors and judges of the North County," said Rosano.

"I intend to put the county on notice that they will share the majority of the responsibility from anything that may result from the lack of security in this building," said the chief.

"It's shameful to expose the sheriff's department and police personnel to the hazards this poorly designed detention facility has created," he said.

Rosano's tour began at the rear of the building where prisoners are removed from vehicles and taken into the building.

That is where the criticism began, too. "This area should be enclosed," he said, pointing to the nearby neighborhood and explaining that if an inmate got loose he would easily be able to scurry to freedom.

Rosano walked up to the wood entrance door where prisoners were to be taken into the holding area. He rapped on the wood structure and called it "cheap standard hardware."

Inside the holding area, Rosano looked up at the ceiling. "I hesitate to call it a false ceiling," he said. "But it's not built to jail specifications as set forth by the State Department of Corrections."

Rosano also pointed to the exposed glass light fixtures. "They could be used as weapons," he said. He also noted that there were no toilet facilities in the holding cells, nor was there any arrangement for feeding the prisoners as they waited court appearances.

In the separate restroom used by inmates, Rosano said, "They're not to jail specifications either. These non-standard or approved jail fixtures can be ripped off and used as weapons."

Looking in at the "client-attorney" conference room next to the inmate restroom, Rosano uttered his first word of qualified praise. "This is the one good thing they did," he said. Then he added, "There's still no separation between the attorney and the in-custody." The box-like room contained a table with two chairs on its opposite sides.

The door to the cells held a square glass for observation. Rosano called it "questionable tempered glass."

Rosano noted that there are strict orders that officers (not sheriff's or police personnel) can not leave a prisoner in a holding cell unattended.

"This means you are duplicating an already cumbersome procedure that court officers must follow," said the chief.

When prisoners are taken from the holding cell to the court appearance they must pass to another holding area through an open hallway, which in one direction leads outside and the other into the judge's chambers.

Rosano was critical of this, too. The door to this second holding cell where prisoners await their court appearances has a peep-hole the size of a small eyeball from which those prisoners inside are to be watched.

trict attorney for an opinion, which he did on Jan. 27, 1972.

Four days later, Deputy District Attorney Breon replied that any structure under a lease-purchase plan for more than three years must comply with sections 15451 to 15465 and section 15409 of the code.

Breon broke the infractions down in writing, noting what routines must be complied with to bring the matter back into legal focus.

Greenwood, in conversations on the matter, stated he felt the women were making an issue out of an honest oversight.

"An honest oversight, my foot," Mrs. Forrester replied.

She called attention to a hassle surrounding construction of a storage facility under the west wing of the Benjamin Franklin School in 1970.

Reports on the Benjamin Franklin facility brought out the need for carefully screening plans and getting state approval before any construction, alterations or additions are made on school sites.

Ultimately, the storage area was approved after certain deficiencies were corrected, reports indicate.

Not only has the location of the portables come under fire from various quarters, but the method of submitting the change order to the board following receipt of bids by the district.

Breon, in a second opinion issued on Feb. 1, 1972, concerning the same matter, called attention to the DA's opinion (51-37) written in 1961, along with several subsequent opinions regarding bids on school items.

In each case it was specifically pointed out that no change in a project could be made after such bids were advertised.

"The contract which the public body executes must be the contract offered by advertisement," the 1961 opinion reads.

"Any other course would prevent real competition, lead to favoritism and fraud and defeat the purpose of the law," the DA wrote.

concerning relocatable classrooms.

"The intent of the drawings and specifications is to construct the work under this contract in accordance with California Administrative Code — Title 21 and 24 — 'General Services' as published by the Division on Administrative Procedure."

A qualified structural engineer or architect is required to conduct continuous inspections of the portables during their erection. This is pointed out in section 3-a of the "requirements." No such engineer or architect was employed by the district.

It is also noted that all work and materials covered in construction of the buildings must comply with Title 21 and 24, Chapter 21 of the California Administrative Code on public school buildings. (Section 2-General Requirements.)

this was a precedent regarding Greenwood, Barthuli and Stratton's salaries.

In the 1970-71 school year budget Greenwood was given a 5.6 per cent raise while the teachers received a greater 7.5 per cent hike.

Previous action on Greenwood and his assistants was handled in separate actions from other certificated personnel, minutes of meetings pertaining to this matter point out.

Greenwood's current salary, less the pay raise, is $27,984. Both Stratton and Barthuli receive $25,820 annually. Retroactive pay for the administrators was about $500.

Minutes of a school board meeting on November 12, 1969 reflect a statement made by superintendent Greenwood regarding salaries of his associate superintendents in which he informed the board that "their salaries are always the last ones approved."

This has been the case in other years, records on the issue indicate.

Attorney General Thomas Lynch's office, in an opinion on a similar matter, noted that salary increases for the superintendent is controlled by Educa-

In each case, maintenance chief Jose responded by pigeon-holing more than half the bulk of those complaints dealing with the toilets.

Four work orders submitted from Abbey to Jose on March 2, 1972 again pointing up the need for repairs in the toilets were shelved.

There have been some repairs made by Jose's five man crew.

Rotted out metal partitions in the toilets were replaced last year with wooden panels; some commode seats were replaced (The work order asked for new seats and chains. The chains later broke); a 10 inch by 10 inch drain whose cover was missing was fixed — it was filled with dirt; the plaster was repaired.

The Executive Board of the Vista Mar P-TA didn't think these repairs were enough. They wrote to Jose on March 15, 1972 that they were "appalled" by conditions at the school.

An exchange of letters between principal Abbey and maintenance chief Jose also brought up mounting pressures generated by the deteriorating toilets and angry parents.

Abbey wrote on March 1, 1972 to Jose that the repairs were included in the 1965 budget and Jose had replied to an earlier letter that certain repairs would be made by Friday, January 24, 1972.

And while some delays were anticipated, three months — not to mention the ten years prior wait — was absurd, Abbey noted.

Abbey's feelings on the matter were summed up in two words on a work order sent to Jose on January 1, 1972.

The principal pleaded "Please Help" and hinted at "pressure building in community" over the issue.

The repair did make the initial budget in 1965. A cost was budgeted for their repair in the 1967-68 year.

The repairs were cut out of the adopted budget, superintendent Frank L. Greenwood said. Money, or lack of it, has always been the determining factor in such matters, and this is why the repairs have been put off, Greenwood said.

In his latest letter to administrative assistant Roger Barthuli, Jose said:

"The toilet rooms of these schools will require concrete work, tile work, new wash basins, new soap dispensers, new partitions, additional ventilation, and of course plumbing work in order to make them comparable to our best."

Trustee Al Collett wanted to know, "why it was let go and let go and let go — It just stinks to me."

Mayors Nearly Curb Ecology Group

A resolution proposed by Daly City to take away all county funding and staffing for the Environmental Quality Coordinating Council almost won the approval of the Council of Mayors of San Mateo County, meeting in Burlingame Friday — but at the last minute it was held over until the mayors' meeting next month in Foster City.

Mayor Bernard J. Lycett of Daly City said he was hardly aware of the organization, for which the board of supervisors has allocated $6,000, until he recently read a letter from Laurence S. Rockefeller congratulating Supervisor Jean Fassler for her part in organizing the council. Rockefeller is chairman of the President's Citizens' Advisory Committee on Environmental Quality in Washington, D.C.

Lycett asked if local elected officials know best their own problems? "Do you want a narrow-minded, selfish group with no recourse from the electorate competing for this budgeted money?"

"I am sure you want some control of the money," he insisted.

Lycett said it was he who originally proposed a regional park for San Bruno Mountain, and now, "this group takes a walk across the mountain and comes up with proposals not only for it but Sugarloaf, Highway 380 and for the harbor at Half Moon Bay."

Lycett charged the Environmental Quality Coordinating Council with being a "maverick" group with "narrow, conservationist interests."

Mayor John J. Murray of San Mateo said the Regional Planning Committee was charged with developing a conservation element in the county's master plan, and despite many hearings by the San Mateo Planning Commission, special committees, and the San Mateo City Council, the "EQCC decided that the council could not take action."

"We cannot be second-guessed," Murray asserted. "We must make our own decisions."

Mayor Ellis A. Rother Sr. of San Carlos suggested the organization is needed to draw together conflicting viewpoints and to oppose groups such as the San Mateo County Development Association.

Mayor Wayne A. McFadden of Foster City said the group was never intended to be a superior organization to the Regional Planning Committee.

Mayor Grace McCarthy of Pacifica said while the organization was formed to provide a forum for various groups, it seems to have gotten away from that, resulting in a "polarization" of the community.

"Now it is sort of a private club, where each city has to pay $100 to join," she complained.

"It smacks less of getting together rather than an advocate of one viewpoint," Murray added.

Mrs. Claire Dedrick, chairman of the disputed organization, maintained that the Daly City resolution was based on a misunderstanding, and said many organizations, including the San Mateo County Development Association and the Peninsula Manufacturers' Association, are represented on the executive board.

"It is not at all fair to say we are limited to conservation groups," she continued. "There are only two on the board—the Sierra Club and the Committee for Green Foothills."

Mrs. Dedrick said invitations had been sent to all cities to join, because the organization must have funding.

"We are trying to bring together all facets of San Mateo County to maintain a good environment for the county. Citizen participation is the basis of American democracy, and we are bringing together various viewpoints and then presenting them."

She said Assemblyman Leo Ryan had asked the group to make a study of disputed Highway 380 from the San Francisco International Airport to the Coast, and the council had obtained viewpoints from both sides.

On a motion of Mayor Paul C. Keckley of Redwood City, who said he had not understood the controversy until last night, the proposed resolution was put over.

Esser Will Head Mayors Council

Mayor Bernard Esser of Millbrae will become the next president of the Council of Mayors of San Mateo County.

He received no opposition Friday when his name was proposed by a nominating committee to succeed Mayor Nat Landes of Woodside.

The official election will come at the mayors' meeting next month in Foster City.

Nominated without opposition as vice president of the group was Mayor John J. Murray of San Mateo.

Other nominations proposed were:

City Manager James A. Swayne of Pacifica as the county's representative on the Transit Coordinating Council.

Councilman Dr. Robert J. Stephens of Menlo Park as the county's representative on the Bay Area Air Pollution Control Board.

Mayor Landes of Woodside as representative on a San Francisco International Airport Access Project Commission, with Councilman Robert A. Jones of Belmont as alternate.

The mayors agreed to attend a special meeting of the county's Local Agency Formation Committee at 8:30 a.m. on May 8 to suggest city representatives on the board to replace William R. Lawson of Menlo Park and Maurice K. Hamilton of San Bruno, neither of whom sought re-election to their city councils.

Condominium Is Approved

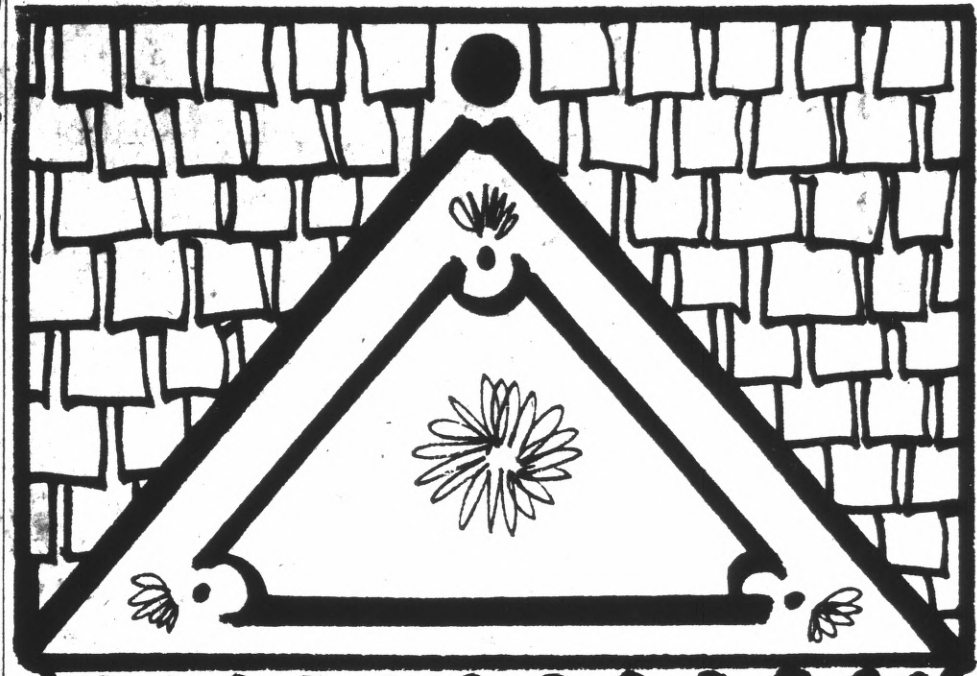

An agreement to permit the Millbrae Heights condominiums was approved last week by the planning commission, and will be forwarded for City Council action.

Planners approved the agreement after several weeks of haggling over wording, especially a clause defining future liability of the property owners for possible damage to neighboring residences.

Commissioners approved a re-subdivision for Remo Boragino. A free-standing "Gulf" sign not bearing the words "car wash," at 250 El Camino, was approved.

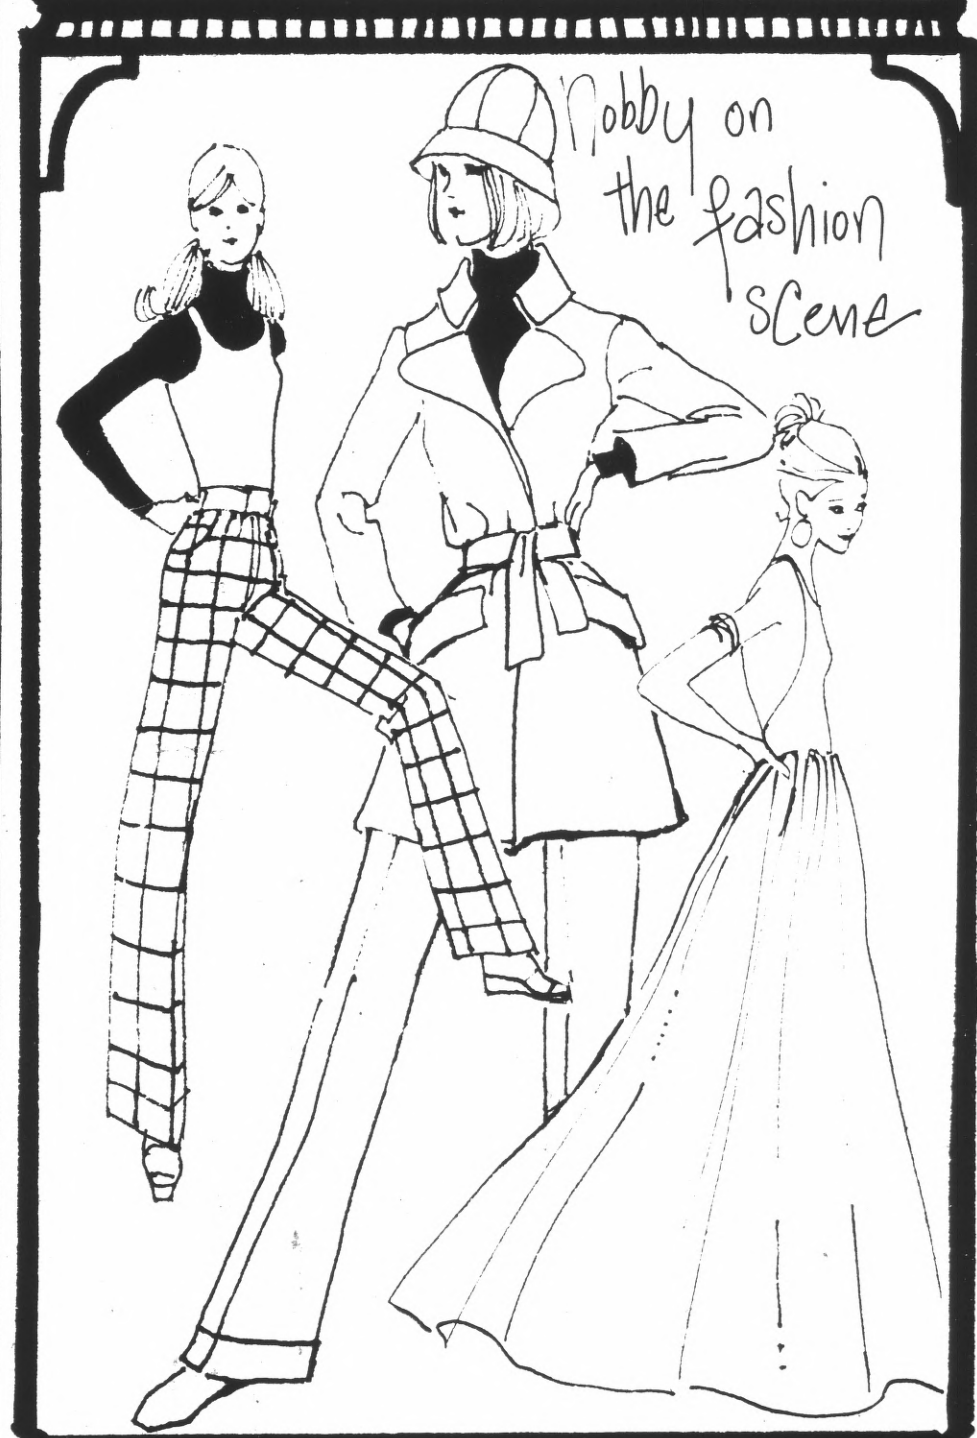

The Commission agreed to plans for remodeling Thrifty drugstore at Friendship Plaza, and for a retaining wall for Stephen Hynding at 20 La Solano Drive.

The proposal of Paul Golz and George Kelly to resubdivide land in Millbrae Villa, was held over so the Commission could be provided more details.

Daring Bandit Strikes Again

A bandit that robbed four late-night eateries in Northern San Mateo County Wednesday has apparently set up an illegal collection route on the Peninsula.

Police say the descriptions of last night's bandit with purple pants match those of a gunman who two nights ago robbed a drive-in cafe in Belmont, plus a motel and restaurant in Millbrae.

Both forays were conducted by a man in his mid-twenties, of shorter than average height, wearing wire-rimmed glasses and sometimes wearing an army fatigue shirt. Wednesday he was said to be driving a blue car.

His holdups last week netted him approximately $400 from cafes in four cities from Millbrae to Daly City.

He started in Millbrae at about 9:30, taking $83 from Arby's Roast Beef restaurant at 120 South El Camino Real, next door to the motel which was robbed two nights earlier.

Clerk Innocente P. Degl and waitress Joan Prieth said the young man, wearing a maroon long sleeved shirt and purple pants, came in alone. He ordered a small soft drink, looked around inside and out, then produced a "small caliber Luger" and pointed it at the employees.

"Give me the money in the register," he said. "Just the currency. Keep your hands above the counter."

Stuffing the money into a black leather shaving kit he carried, the gunman ran out of the building and was last seen running eastward toward California Drive. No car was seen.

In San Bruno, however, witnesses say the gunman drove a 1956 or 1960 light blue station wagon.

There he stopped at a 7-11 store at 2020 Rollingwood Drive, where he approached night manager Arnold Porter, 35, at about 12:30 a.m.

According to police, the bandit had the pistol in his right hand and shaving kit in the left. He asked Porter to fill the bag with currency, no coin.

Police said he ran out the door with an estimated $200.

Ten minutes later a man fitting the same description walked into Denny's Restaurant, 2220 Westborough Boulevard, South San Francisco.

He approached waitress Patricia Craig, once again with a little black bag in one hand and a pistol in the other, asking her to put currency in the bag.

Police said he left on foot, heading toward Gellert Boulevard, and carrying an estimated $74 in stolen cash.

At about 1 a.m. about seven people were dining at Westlake Joe's Restaurant, Alemany and Lake Merced Boulevard, when the bandit struck again.

This time the amount of loss was undetermined, but he was seen driving off toward San Francisco in a compact car.

In another incident a lone bandit robbed the Jumping Bean Restaurant, 259 El Camino, South San Francisco, of an estimated $50, at about 10:30 p.m.

Police said a man about 25 dressed in a red long-sleeved shirt and dark pants displayed a gun, and left on foot.

Mexican Parade For Daly City

Daly City's Mexican-American community will celebrate their Spring Festival with a parade and dance on May 6 starting at noon.

A parade will lead off festivities from the Our Lady of Mercy Church down Mission Street to Holy Angels Church where a bazaar will be held complete with refreshments.

Dancing and a fashion show is also on the schedule of events.

Pacifica Votes Down Tax Concept

Pacifica officials have put thumbs down on a proposal by the county that a portion of the city's sales tax revenue be placed in a county trust fund until such time as rapid transit becomes a reality in the county.

City Manager Jim Swayne, in recommending against the proposal, said, "There are many items on our priority list of greater importance than a hypothetical rapid transit system whose exact character and routing has not taken shape as yet."

Swayne said the request was a budget matter and should only be approved by the council if they felt the city's priorities were such that the city had no greater need than rapid transit.

He then listed several other "substantial capital improvement needs" such as a city hall, fire stations, a police detention facility and street improvements.

Councilman Stan Farber said to notify the county that if and when Pacifica is included in a rapid transit system the city will be happy to discuss financing.

Insanity Plea in D.C. Slaying

Stanley Orville Whitebread, accused of the Daly City slaying of a retired Navy chief petty officer last month, has entered dual pleas of not guilty and not guilty by reason of insanity to a charge of murder.

Indicted by the County Grand Jury last week, Whitebread, 26, a Lawrence, Kan., cook, entered his pleas Tuesday in Superior Court before Judge W. Howard Hartley.

The murder victim, Wesley Strong, 64, was found shot to death in his home March 28, and Whitebread surrendered to Ensenada, Mex., authorities two days later.

When the defendant appeared Tuesday with his attorney, Ed Pliska, to enter the pleas, Judge Hartley ordered Whitebread to be examined by two psychiatrists, with their reports to be submitted to the court May 15. Trial was scheduled for June 26 at 9 a.m.

Pacifica Seeks State Tax Lawsuit

Pacifica City Manager Jim Swayne has written numerous California cities asking that they join Pacifica in a lawsuit to challenge the constitutionality of property and sales tax distributions in the state.

Swayne contends that the recent State Supreme Court decision of Serrano versus Priest, which found the tax allocation for the state's schools unconstitutional, also applies to allocations of tax monies to cities.

"The Pacifica city council has repeatedly over the last few years sought legislative tax reform in Sacramento," said Swayne's letter.

"The legislature has been, and apparently will be, unresponsive. For this reason, the council has authorized me to pursue relief in the courts."

"The purpose of this letter is to solicit from you an expression of interest in joining with the City of Pacifica in a lawsuit to challenge the pattern of municipal finance in California."

Swayne points out that in Pacifica, at the city's north city limits, it is possible for a man to live in Pacifica and have a neighbor who is a citizen of Daly City. The citizen of Pacifica however receives a lower level of municipal service than the citizen of Daly City, even though the Pacifica citizen pays a higher tax rate.

"One citizen must accept a greater property tax burden at the same time he accepts a lower level of municipal service," said Swayne's letter.

"If his street needs repair it is less likely that it will be repaired. If his home is robbed there is less chance that the burglar will be caught. And if his house catches fire it is less likely that the fire will be rapidly extinguished."

Swayne noted that the purpose of the municipal revenue law is to allocate funds to provide municipal services. He says that instead "arbitrary classification of the ultimate beneficiaries of the services ac-

Air Travel Record Seen

Record air travel through San Francisco International Airport for the current fiscal year ending June 30 is a good probability, Airports Director James K. Carr said today.

"The air passenger total could exceed the 15 million mark for the first time in airport history," Carr predicted. "This forecast is based on the fact that for six consecutive months, the air passenger totals have exceeded figures for corresponding months of the previous fiscal year, with February and March gains recorded to 12.2 and 13.5 percentage points."

The March passenger total was 1,188,000, the highest recorded for any March in airport history. The February total likewise was an all-time high," Carr stated.

The present fiscal year record for air passengers was established in 1969-70 with 14,580,423.

"It is especially encouraging to note the monthly passenger increases since last October, which followed some two years of declining growth rate," Carr increases since last October, which followed some two years of declining growth rate," Carr stated. "The 13.5 per cent gain recorded in March was the highest since December 1968."

Road Funds Approved by GTC Panel

Assistance in the improvement of Fessler Avenue in Pacifica was approved Thursday by the County Greater Transportation Committee.

The group, which administers a fund used for projects on roads of areawide importance, allocated $100,000 toward the proposed $1 million Hillsdale widening. The city of San Mateo has agreed to contribute a like amount to the State Division of Highways to accelerate the construction. The overpass is to be widened from two to four lanes.

The GTC allocated $136,000 to assist Pacifica with a $575,000 project to widen Fessler Avenue from Cabrillo Highway to Crespi Drive from two to four lanes.

In order to qualify Fessler Avenue as a road of areawide importance, the committee agreed to restore a portion of the proposed Skyline Parkway in the city-county system, thereby providing a link between Pacifica and San Bruno by way of Sharp Park Road.

Pacifica Councilman Harland F. Minshew said Fessler Avenue is to be developed as scenic roadway east of Crespi Drive leading to the Portola Discovery Site on Sweeney Ridge.

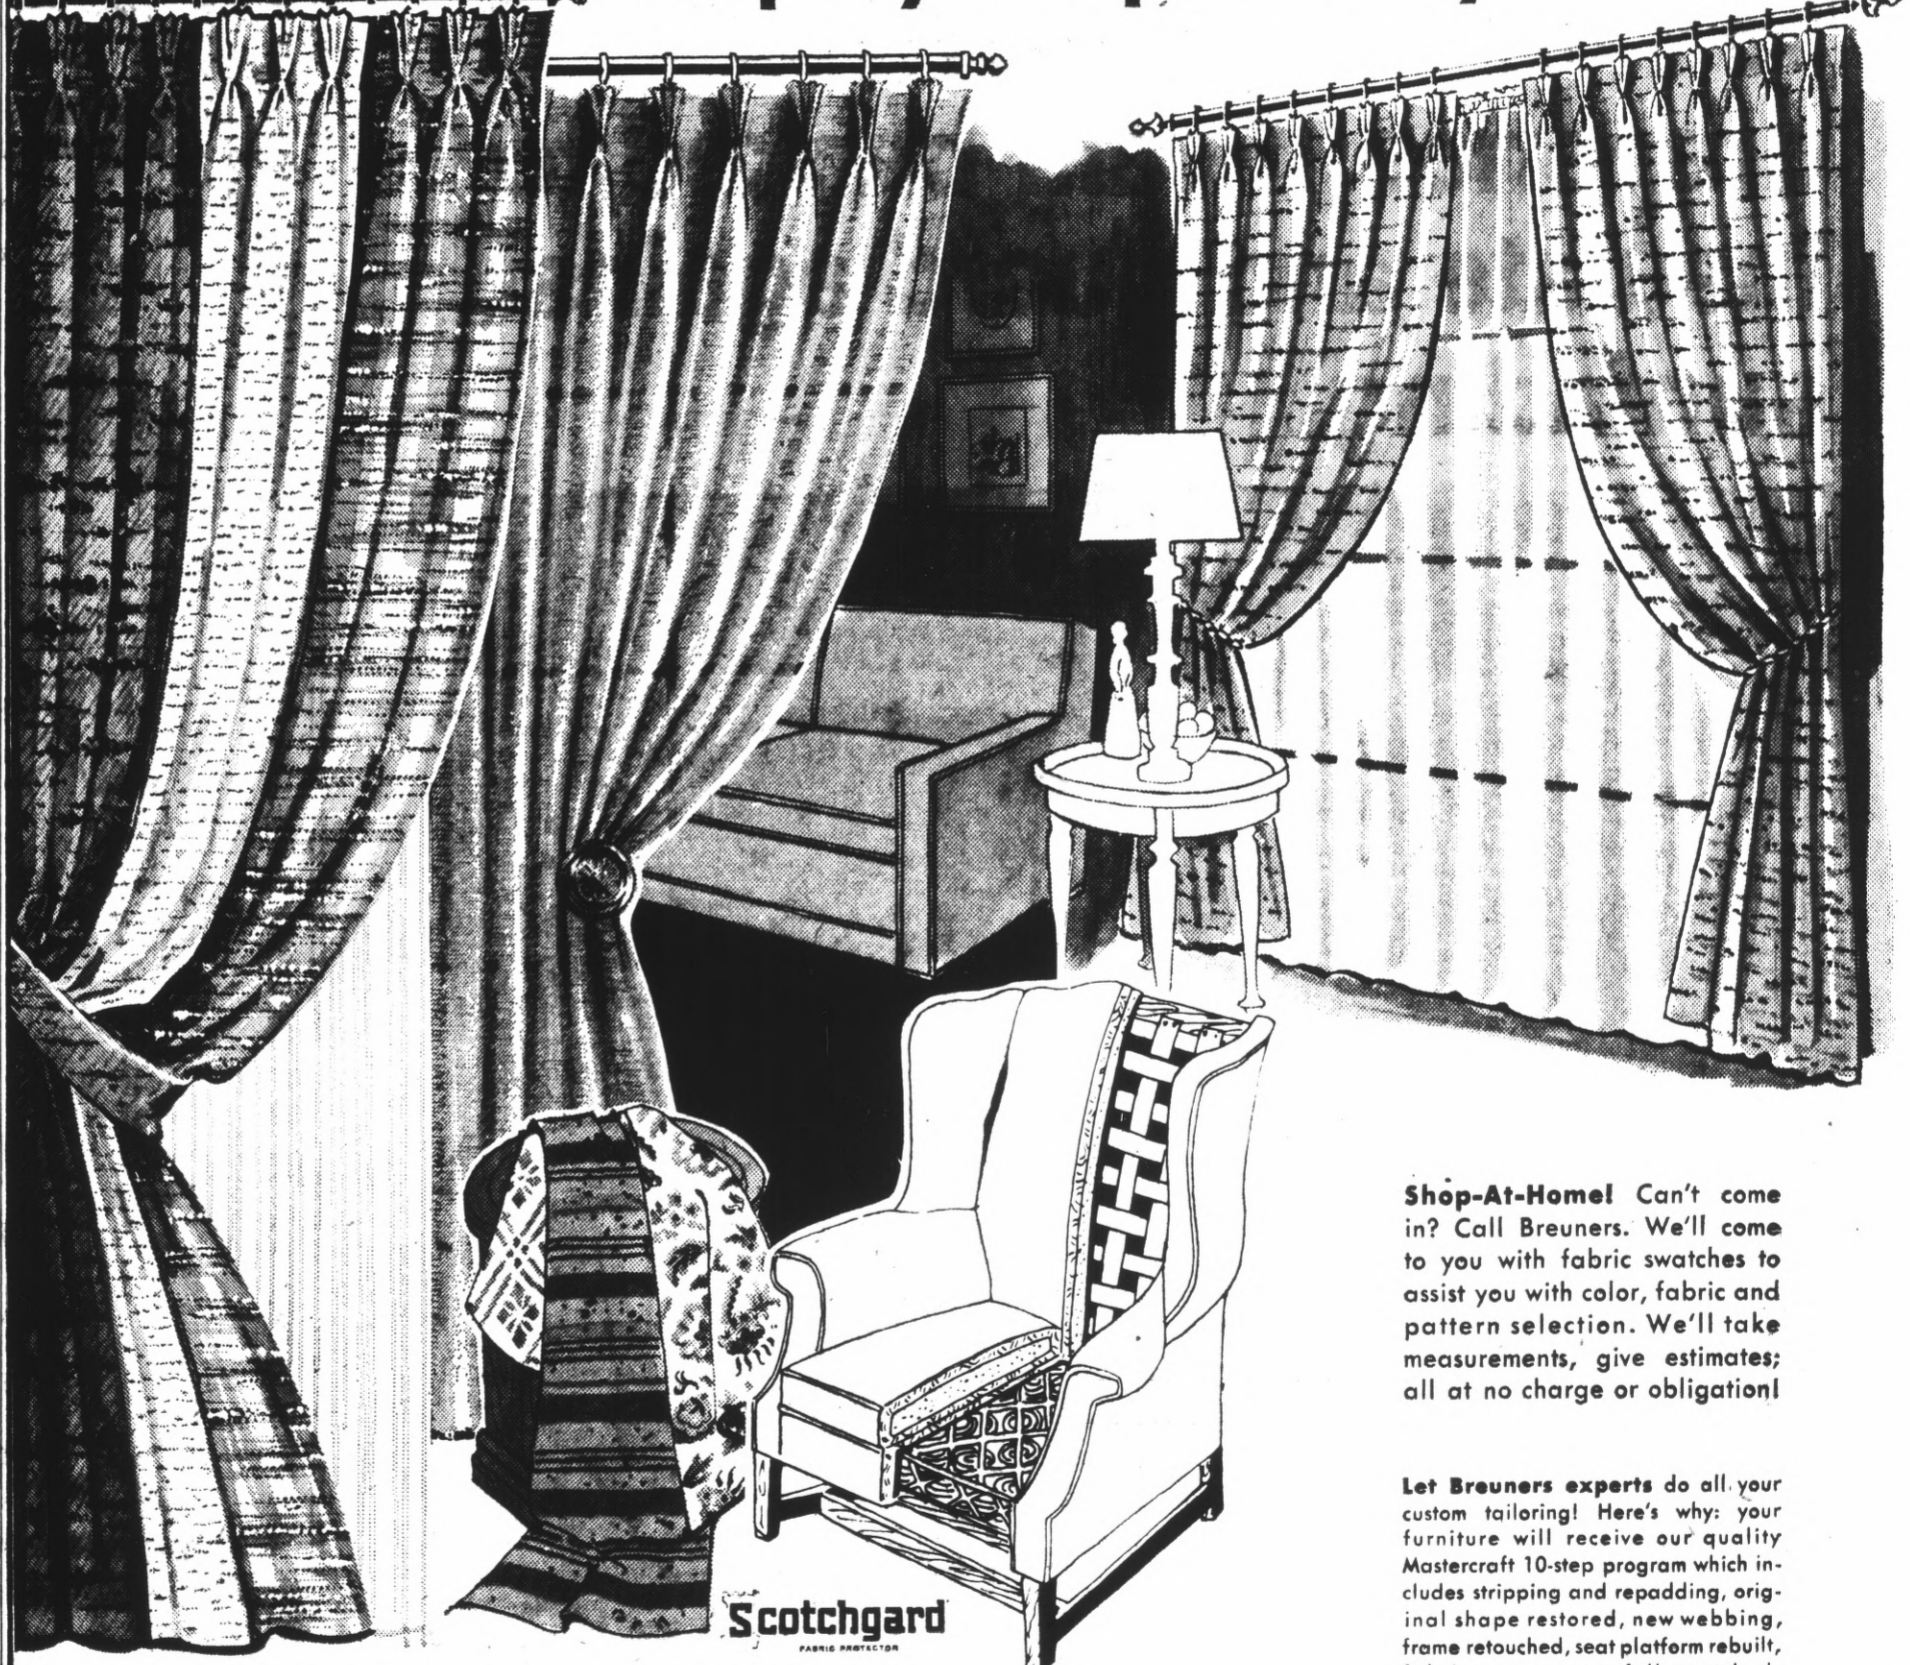

In other action, the committee confirmed the election of James L. Kuebelbeck as representative of the Governmental Research Council on the GTC working subcommittee. At the January meeting of the group, Kuebelbeck was elected by a vote of 7 to 6, with two abstentions. Conservationists, because of Kuebelbeck's former association with Deane and Deane, the Coastside's largest land developer, challenged the election. It was contended that he needed a majority of the quorum, or eight votes, rather than merely a majority of those voting. Chairman Gerald F. Day said the district attorney's office ruled otherwise. He confirmed the election.

Approved

Pacifica's council has approved obligating $18,466 in TOPICS funds for the 1972-73 fiscal year.

The action merely safeguards state monies so that it is not allocated to other jurisdictions. TOPICS funds are used for study and/or improvement of road projects.

D.C. School Aide Battles Against Odds for Job

By FRANK LAPIERRE

The efforts of a Daly City elementary school employee to return to her job as an account clerk with the district has been described by an official of the California School Employees Association as an "exercise in futility."

So complex is the appeal of Mrs. Betty Comosky that at the last regular meeting of the Jefferson Elementary School District Board of trustees Edward Tomasello rescinded a vote he made last February concerning her reinstatement from librarian to account clerk.

Not only did the board, in a split 3-2 decision, decide to change its vote, Tomasello moved to expunge the February meeting minutes. In other words, the action taken by the board regarding Mrs. Comosky's reinstatement last February never took place for all intents and purposes of future reference.

William F. Young, field representative with the CSEA, is representing Mrs. Comosky.

He called his client's case "a political football" and informed the trustees he was "damned upset" over the way the case for reversing the prior action was presented to the board by Director of Classified Personnel David E. Pia.

Young said Mrs. Comosky's next course of action is to take the matter before Pia "for a fair and impartial hearing."

"Can you imagine Mrs. Comosky getting a fair and impartial hearing on this matter by Mr. Pia after tonight?" Young said later.

Asked if he would indeed give Mrs. Comosky a "fair and impartial hearing," Pia replied he had nothing to do with such an appeal. The issue could be handled either by the Personnel Commission or a hearing officer acceptable to both parties, Pia said.

The case involving Mrs. Comosky and the school district began in early 1968 after she suffered a heart attack while working in assistant superintendent Roger Barthuli's office as an account clerk.

Barthuli said Mrs. Comosky subsequently was required to be on sick leave because of this frequently and was not effective in her position. He said Mrs. Comosky was absent "more than half the time."

"I wasn't going to demote her," Barthuli told The Times. "I was going to fire her. But I felt sorry for her."

Mrs. Comosky took a leave of absence to recuperate from her illness. Before she departed it was understood she would not return to Barthuli's office but would take a voluntary demotion to the library, according to Barthuli.

While on leave, Mrs. Comosky's account clerk slot was filled by another employee hired for the job.

Mrs. Comosky had apparent misgivings about her assignment to the library, especially when she learned her work involved raising her arms over her head and carrying loads of heavy books, both practices her heart specialist frowned on. For two years she appealed her plight to the board.

On February 1, 1972, Mrs. Beverly Forrester made a motion to reinstate Mrs. Comosky to position of account clerk I.

Tomasello, Forrester and Adams voted approval. Only trustee Collett voted against the reinstatement.

A second motion was made by Mrs. Forrester to place Mrs. Comosky on the salary range appropriate in accordance with the rules and regulations of the Merit Commission. On this action all four trustees voted approval.

The minutes of these actions have never been approved. These are the two actions Tomasello wants the board to expunge.

Pia said in a later interview on the issue he is not arguing that Mrs. Comosky should not be an Account Clerk I, only that her course of action in returning to this spot was wrong.

She should have directed her actions to the Personnel Commission—not the school board, Pia said. He explained the demotion was voluntary and was an administrative action that did not need action of the school board.

In his arguments, CSEA representative Young pointed out that the school board never approved the voluntary demotion of Mrs. Comosky, therefore it never happened.

"Young has confused the issue," Pia retorts.

As far as Pia is concerned, Mrs. Comosky has proper avenues of reapplying for her Account Clerk post within 39 months after her transfer.

Meanwhile, Mrs. Comosky, who has suffered five heart attacks in recent years, said she is getting the run around from J.E.S.D. administrators and charged they have given her "a fast shuffle."

Youth Leader Raps 'Lip Service'

A senior recreation leader-youth coordinator has resigned his Pacifica post in a strongly worded letter to his supervisor lambasting the city council for its "lip service" to youth.

In a letter to Virginia Silva, Jeffrey L. Wong said he was giving two weeks' notice "with deep regret because the problems and the situations which created this decision will be allowed to remain after I leave."

He said that the youth of Pacifica "have no voice, or at least their voices are falling on unresponsive ears." Wong said this was not the fault of the city's recreation department. "For the amount of money they are allotted and the minimum amount of staff they have, they are doing more for the people of Pacifica than the public is aware of," said Wong.

"What I'm referring to is the lip service city council is giving to the youth of Pacifica. If city council sincerely was interested in youth, they would have made more than a token gesture in setting up a youth commission."

"What is required is a change in the set-up," said Wong's letter. "First of all, commissioners are needed who actually represent youth. This could be done by setting up a youth screening committee who will appoint people to be representatives."

Wong said recommendations could come from the council, the schools, the youth service bureau, the parks, beaches and recreation department or elsewhere. But he said the committee should have true representation.

"As of now, there are no representatives from any minority groups at all," said Wong's letter. "The screening committee could work to set up a good balance and alleviate these inequities."

He said problems of youth would not have come about if the council "would have been more pro youth to begin with."

"City Council has, by the way of this letter, my resignation, but if they believe for one minute this is the cure-all to solving problems of youth, they had better guess again."

NCO LEADER

FT. McLELLAN, Ala. — Army Sergeant Donald A. MacFerren, son of Mr. and Mrs. O. D. MacFerren, 581 San Pedro, Pacifica, recently was graduated from the Third U. S. Army Noncommissioned Officer Academy at Ft. McClellan, Ala.

He received six weeks of training in leadership, instructor training, drill and ceremonies, physical fitness, personal appearance, and conduct.

Wins Two News Awards

Two newspaper journalism honors were awarded to Skyline College's official newspaper, Skyline Press, at the Journalism Association of Community College's convention held in Santa Cruz.

Georgette Petropoulos, editor-in-chief, received a Certificate of Merit for her on-the-spot editorial relating to the speech given by Lieutenant Governor Ed Reinecke, the conference's keynote speaker.

Assistant editor Janet Parker along with Georgette won the third place plaque for full size newspaper layout for small colleges.

This year's conference contest entrees and attendees included more than 500 students and advisors from more than 68 community colleges in California.

Georgette is a sophomore who will be graduating this June and plans to attend San Francisco State College. The journalism major also has been the Skyline Press' assistant editor (Fall 1971) and a reporter (Spring 1971). She is a graduate from Lowell High School (San Francisco) where she was a reporter on the school newspaper.

Janet, a freshman, is a graduate from Crestmoor High School (San Bruno) where she was the editor-in-chief, assistant editor, and feature editor on the school newspaper, The Crest. Last term she was a reporter on the Skyline Press.

Asst. Cashier

Mrs. Janet M. Berry, of San Bruno, has been promoted to Assistant Cashier, South San Francisco Office of United California Bank. Mrs. Berry joined United California Bank in 1963 as a bookkeeper in the Marysville office. She also worked in the Burlingame office.

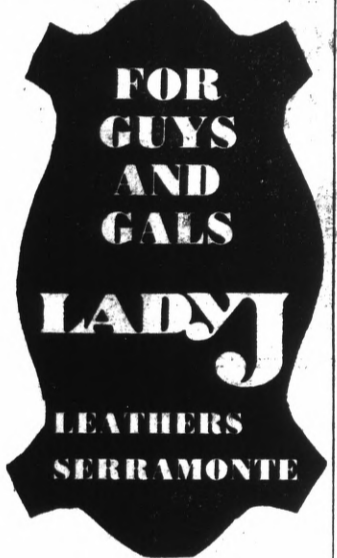

Law Firm May Split

The former law partner of Attorney Richard P. Lyons, facing charges of embezzlement, has filed a petition in Superior Court seeking formal dissolution of the partnership.

David Jay Morgan says in the petition that he and Lyons became partners in a law firm March 1, 1964, and that the partnership dissolved Dec. 31, 1971, when Morgan gave Lyons notice to that effect.

The petition asks the court to dissolve the partnership as of last December 31, and to authorize an accounting for the period of the partnership.

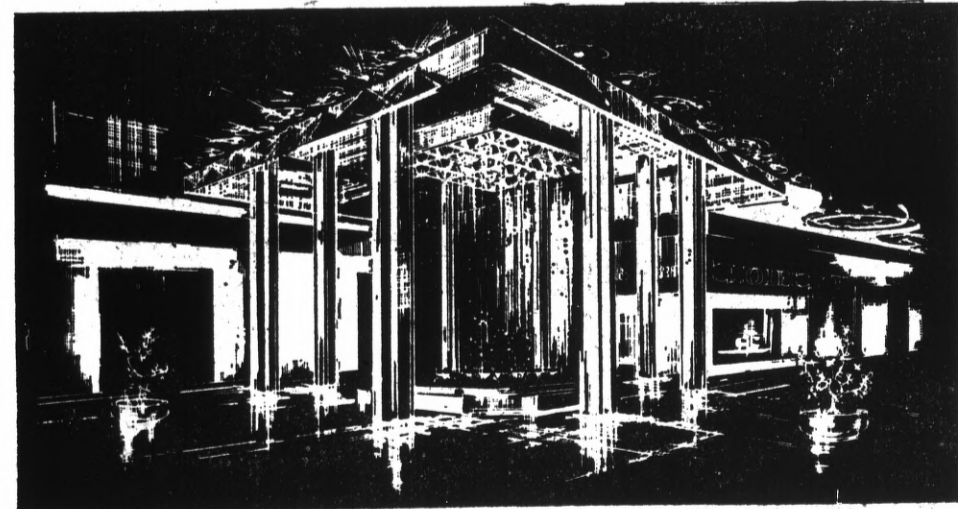

Lyons, who has offices in South San Francisco, was indicted by the County Grand Jury March 30 on five counts of embezzlement. He is scheduled to enter pleas to the charges May 2 in Superior Court.

Helping a business man set up a corporation account or a payroll savings program is routine for Home Managers, like Herb Fisher of San Mateo.

Teller Nina Pellegrini of Home's Mission District office supplies a vacation-bound customer with traveler's checks, free with minimum account.

Tellers like Carlotta Hillesheim of Tiburon pay out interest at the rate of $500,000 daily to Home Savers, more than any other association.

One of the fastest ways to make a saving account grow, explains teller Etta Watts of Oakland, is to let earnings accumulate and add to principal.

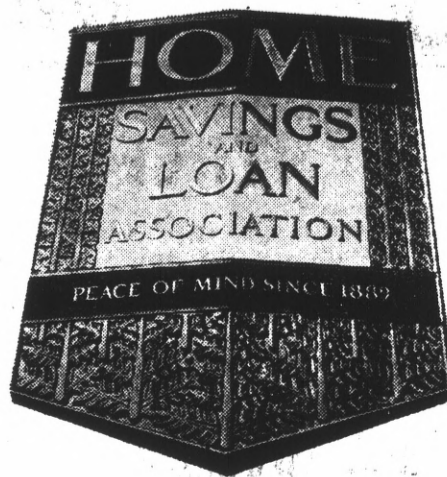

The People at Home do more for you

Showboat Holdup Suspects Held After a Chase

Two gunmen held up the Showboat restaurant on Burlingame's shoreline Saturday, fleeing with $371.

Within minutes, two suspects were arrested in South San Francisco after a victim of the robbery pointed them out to police.

Charged with the 1:50 a.m.

DATA PROCESSING

FT. BENJAMIN HARRISON, Ind.—Army Second Lieutenant Michael J. McRee, son of Mr. and Mrs. Nevel J. McRee, 1066 Sycamore, Millbrae, recently completed a four-week Army automatic data processing (ADP) systems analysis officer course at the U.S. Army Adjutant General School, Ft. Benjamin Harrison, Ind.

Lt. McRee learned the principles and procedures of analyzing current military applications and designing those applications for initial employment robbery at 410 Airport Boulevard are two young Pacifica men who are students at Skyline College and who have previous arrest records. They are: Donald W. Cozby, 21, 645 Heather Court; and Thomas G. Marks, 20, 424 Manor Drive Place.

Burlingame Police Officers Wayne South and Ron Reed arrested the pair in South San Francisco, after they had been stopped by California Highway Patrol Sgt. Ed Laine.

Sgt. Laine had been directed to the car in which Cozby and Marks were found, by Harry A. Shook, a victim of the holdup. Shook had followed from the Showboat, he told Sgt. Laine, but was running out of gas and had to pull into a South San Francisco service station. There he found Sgt. Laine. As Shook described the northbound escape car to Laine, the Cozby-Marks car went past, headed southward to the freeway on-ramp.

Burlingame Officers South and Reed say the holdup occurred at 1:50 a.m., but the two gunmen had been in the restaurant-bar since shortly after 1 a.m.

After all customers had left, except Shook, one of the pair handed bartender Bruce Butler a note written on a paper napkin. It said:

"This is a robbery, if you want to live, do as I say. Stand back to the wall!!! We have men outside, with guns and radios to the police. All life is in your hands."

Waitress Elizabeth Sarkisian returned to the bar, and was told:

"This is a robbery, please sit down."

One of the gunmen searched the restaurant for other people, and brought janitor Joseph M. Pires to the bar.

All four victims were tied together with a rope from the Showboat's entryway gang-plank. The gunmen took all the paper money from the cash register, and left. Shook immediately freed himself and followed.

The others were quickly untied, and called police. None of them was injured.

Police say they found a 9mm. Belgian Browning automatic pistol in the Cozby-Marks car. One bullet was found on the seat beside the weapon, they said, and a magazine of other bullets was found in a clip, elsewhere in the car.

Good morning, good cooks. If this was a TV program, I'd announce, "Welcome good cooks, to the Sugar and Spice variety show." For today we're going to feature three different types of recipes. First on the show... a delicious two layer bar cookie using dried apricots.

APRICOT BARS

- 1/2 cup margarine, softened
- 1 1/4 cups firmly packed light brown sugar
- 1 and one-third cups unsifted flour
- Salt
- 2 eggs
- 1 Tablespoon lemon juice
- 1/2 teaspoon baking powder
- 1/2 cup nuts
- 1 cup dried apricots, chopped

With a spoon work together the half cup margarine, one-fourth cup of the sugar, one cup of the flour and one-eighth teaspoon salt; pat mixture into bottom of greased 8-inch square cake pan. Bake in preheated 350-degree oven for 20 minutes.

Beat the two eggs with remaining cup sugar until light and fluffy; beat in one-eighth teaspoon salt, one tablespoon lemon juice, half teaspoon baking powder and the remaining one-third cup flour; stir in the half cup nuts and one cup apricots. Spread over baked layer. Bake 25 to 30 minutes longer. Cool; spread with confectioners glaze; cut in bars.

GLAZE

- 1 cup sifted powdered sugar
 - 3/4 teaspoon water
 - 1/4 teaspoon almond or vanilla extract
- In a small bowl combine the one cup powdered sugar, three and one-half teaspoons water and fourth teaspoon flavoring. Mix until smooth.

When I think of an eggplant casserole I usually think of a dish calling for tomatoes or tomato sauce and onions or garlic. This next recipe calls for my old favorite eggplant, uses a cereal as a part of the recipe, with cheddar cheese adding it's flavor to the dish.

EGGPLANT CASSEROLE

- 1 medium eggplant
- 1 egg
- 1/2 teaspoon salt
- 1/2 teaspoon pepper
- 1 cup rice krispies
- 1/2 cup milk

Pare and cut the eggplant into small cubes. Boil in a small amount of water about 10 minutes. Drain and mash. Add the one egg, half teaspoon salt and eighth teaspoon, pepper; mix well. Pour into lightly greased 1 1/2 quart casserole. Top with the cup rice krispies and then the one cup grated cheese. Add one-half cup milk. Bake 350-degree oven for 30 minutes.

And for the grand finale of our program... how about baking a nice loaf of banana bread? This recipe comes from a cookbook published by St. Mark's Church in Venice, Calif.

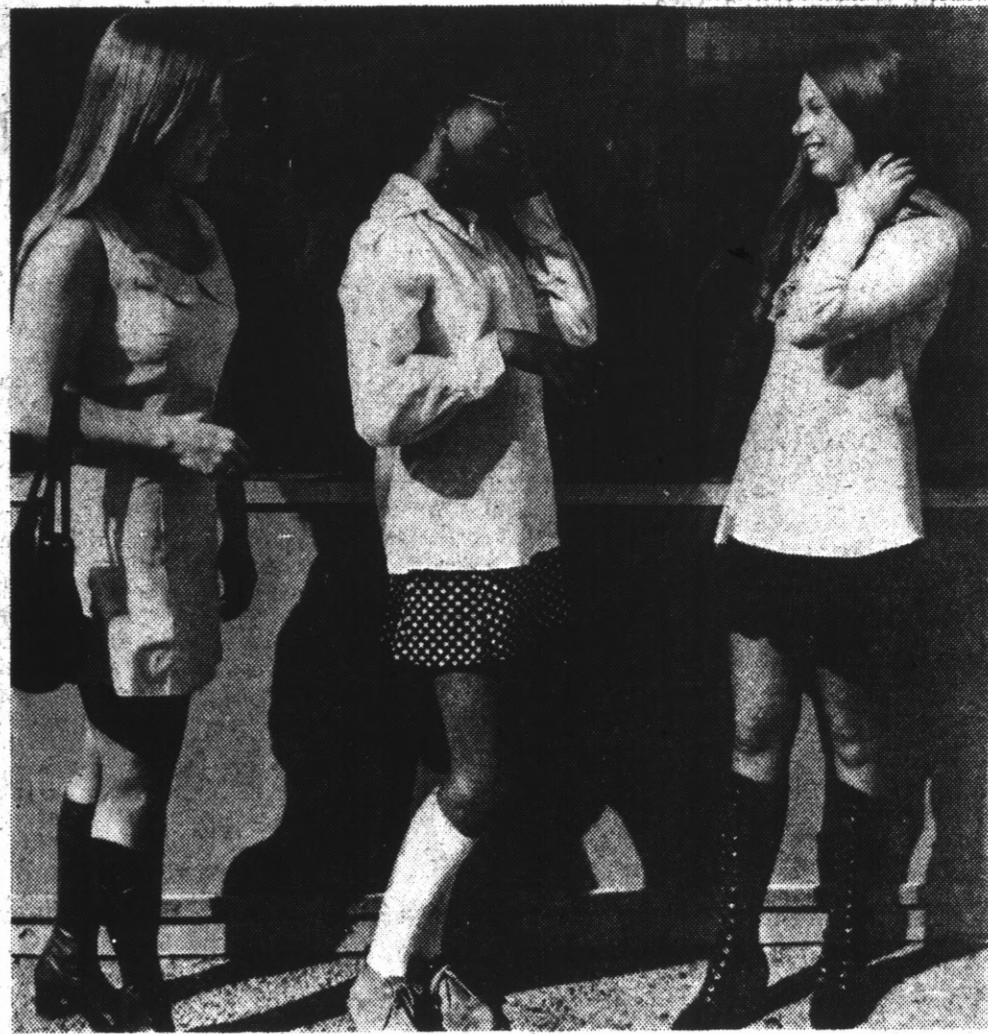

BANANA NUT BREAD

- 1 and three-fourths cups sifted flour
- 2 teaspoons baking powder
- 1/4 teaspoon baking soda
- 1/2 teaspoon salt
- one-third cup shortening
- two-thirds cup sugar
- 2 eggs, well beaten
- 1 cup mashed bananas
- 1/2 cup nuts

Sift together the one and three-fourths cup flour, two teaspoons baking powder, fourth teaspoon baking soda and one-half teaspoon salt. Beat the one-third cup shortening until creamy; add the two-thirds cup sugar and continue beating until light and fluffy. Add the two eggs and beat well. Add the flour mixture alternately with the one cup bananas, a small amount at a time beating after each addition until smooth. Add the half cup nuts. Turn into well greased 9x5-inch bread pan. Bake in 350-degree oven one hour or until done. Cool 10 minutes in pan, remove and finish cooking on cake rack.

Church Women United to Meet

The San Francisco Council of Church Women United (CWU), will open its monthly executive board meetings to all women of the Bay Area.

Meetings will be held the second Friday of each month, 11 a.m. to 1 p.m. at Temple Baptist Church, 3355 19th Ave. (Stonestown), with participants bringing their own lunch.

For information, contact CWU Secretary, Mrs. R. C. Blackburn, 975 Burnett Ave., San Francisco, 94131 or call 385-4196.

'You Can't Take It With You' to Open on May 17

A change of the opening date for the Westmoor High School comedy "You Can't Take It With You" has just been announced.

The new opening will be May 17 and will play again the nights of the 18th and 20th at 8 p.m. in the Little Theatre at Westmoor.

Due to the extended illness of the drama director Kenneth Brown, the dates had to be changed. Even though Brown had been ill for the month assistant director, student La-Ronda Wirth has continued rehearsals and coaching. Assistant her has been San Francisco State College student teacher John Leeder.

The clever handbills and posters that are circulating inviting the community to see the play are the art work of well-known local artist and teacher art St. Peter. As his motif, he has used the old Victorian house where the nutty characters of the play take residence.

Written by George S. Kaufman and Moss Hart, the Pulitzer Prize winning play is set in the 30's and is the perfect vehicle for nostalgia buffs, or just anyone who enjoys an evening of good comedy.

Comedy Delay In Westmoor

The Westmoor High School production of "You Can't Take It With You" has been rescheduled from May 4, 5, 6 to May 17, 18, 20.

Ken Brown, director and head of the Drama Department, became ill and was hospitalized with pneumonia April 3. Brown was absent the following three weeks and rehearsals were conducted by assistant director La Ronda Wirth, a senior at Westmoor.

Tickets for this hit comedy will be $1 and will be sold in advance and at the door.

Veronica's Carnival on May 19-21

If you hear the throbbing beat of drums in South San Francisco, they are to welcome you to the forthcoming annual festival which St. Veronica's parish will feature on May 19-21.

The theme will be "Yankee Doodle Daze." New games plus the old familiar favorites will be housed in the big tent on the grounds of St. Veronica's Church. It will be skyrocketing with the spirit of 1776 with red, white and blue booths.

Committee chairmen are as follows: Robert Hamilton, chairman; Edward Bragg, treasurer; Mrs. John Boland, secretary; Skip MacDonald, decorations; Mrs. Daniel Flynn, signs and displays; James Mullady, refreshments; Messrs. Rudy Baldonado and Russell Tetreault, building superintendents; Mrs. Robert Robinson, publicity; John Martinez, personnel; Messrs. William Green, Robert Pelt, and Daniel Flynn, electricians.

Dinner will be served on Sunday, May 21 3 to 8 p.m. and proceeds from the festival will benefit St. Veronica's parish.

... Give Your Home That Custom-Tailored Look!

Here is a great value in long lastingness that is now marked down to save you money. We have made a special purchase on these fine items from famous Cal-Shops Furniture and are passing these big savings on to you. What a great way to be able to take advantage of every inch of usable wall space. These pieces were designed to fill the needs of busy homes where the maximum amount of drawers and bookcase space are needed, yet using only a minimum amount of space. Build up a whole wall for a bedroom, living room or family room. They are so versatile. You will have that built-in look, but without the big cost or lack of movability of built-ins. All the quality, warmth and charm of fine American traditional craftsmanship has been built into each and every piece. The lovely grain of the solid hard Eastern Birch wood is no accident. It is brought out by applying top quality lacquers and hand-rubbing to a patina that is the hallmark of fine furniture. The tops of all the floor pieces are protected with genuine Formica in beautiful matched wood grain that resists marks, scratches, burns and stains. Cleans with a flick of a damp cloth. The drawers are center-guided for ease of operation — never a tug or jerk when you open them. The dust proof drawers are all wide and deep. You'll have an abundance of storage space. Good taste like this is easy to live with... Always admired. Hurry in today. Take advantage of this great special purchase. Use your BankAmericard. Free Delivery Always.

'Rock Sculptures' Lure Children

THIS GROUP of girls, under the direction of San Francisco State College volunteer Rae Molinsky (right), is being taught to create "rock sculptures" at the Parkview Clubhouse in Daly City. The activity is part of a neighborhood program being sponsored by the Daly City Girl Scout Association. The program is open to all boys and girls. (Staff Photo)

Pacifica Site for Nuptials

Louanne Heath

St. Peter's Church in Pacifica will be the setting May 21 for the marriage of Cristina Recto and John C. Kenrick. A reception will follow at the Crystal Springs Golf Club.

The Rev. John Riley will conduct the ceremony for the daughter of Elizabeth Y. Daly of South San Francisco and the late Jose M. Recto and the son of Mrs. Lucy Maxwell of San Juan Bautista, and the late Charles J. Kenrick.

The prospective bride is the sister of Liza and Jose Recto and Sandra Daly. She studied at Notre Dame High School in San Francisco, the College of Notre Dame and Santa Clara University.

John was educated at Albany High School and San Francisco State. A professional golfer, he is affiliated with Harding Park Golf Course in San Francisco.

Author of 'Black Rage' Will Speak

Dr. William Grier, the controversial black psychiatrist and author of "Black Rage" and "The Jesus Bag," will be the featured speaker at the sixth annual meeting of the San Mateo County Planned Parenthood Association on May 11.

The luncheon meeting will begin with no-host cocktails at noon at the Airport Marina Hotel, 1380 Bayshore Boulevard, Burlingame, and luncheon will follow at 12:30 p.m.

Planned Parenthood operates family planning clinics in San Mateo, Redwood City, Pacifica, Daly City, Half Moon Bay and Menlo Park. Contraceptive, vasectomy and pregnancy counseling services are available without charge to those who cannot afford to pay and at a modest fee to those who can. The organization works to reduce overpopulation by enabling parents to have only the children they really want.

Tickets for the luncheon are available at the Planned Parenthood office, 373 South Claremont, San Mateo, or at the door.

Signups on for Girl Scout Camp

For a nominal fee which includes bus transportation, registration continues this week for the new seven-day Daly City Sierra Camp (scheduled for July 10-17 at White Meadows above Placerville). Applications should be sent to the home of Mrs. Rodman Barnes, 99 Westbrook.

Parents interested in visiting the site are invited to participate in the Daly City Association work party planned for the Memorial Day weekend.

The facilities include covered sleeping shelters, showers, a dining room for meals prepared by the central kitchen staff, swimming pool and a pond for canoes.

Julie Weih, Sheila Loew and Tammy Vlachou are "putting the finishing touches on their acts" this week as they prepare for the district run-off of the Exchange Club's "Search for Talent."

Local winners in the club's competitions in San Francisco, Stevens Creek-San Jose and Modesto-Turlock will face each other in competition set for Sunday, in the Little Theater of Serramonte High School, at 3 p.m., according to word from Patti Parks McClain, the Daly City area talent coordinator for the program.

South San Franciscans Julie and Tammy, winners of the senior and primary division, respectively, and Sheila, the junior division champ from San Bruno, will be trying their wings on the second plateau and hoping fervently to capture a spot in the State Sweepstakes to be held in San Diego in June.

Since many people will be traveling considerable distances to attend this event, the wives of the Daly City Exchange Club will serve a buffet for all show guests and competitors. No reservations are necessary and the wives hope that all planning to be on hand will come early enough to enjoy the complimentary refreshments.

All impressive list of dignitaries and entertainers have been invited to judge the meet, Mrs. McClain reports. Among those who have been approached are Shirley Temple Black, Jim Lange of KSFO and Television, Benny Smith, choreographer of the Miss California Pageant; Al King, impresario and booking agent and Barbara Bladen, entertainment columnist of the San Mateo Times.

Toastmaster will be Don Kavanaugh of the Division Two Exchange Club Search for Talent Committee from Modesto. Helping Kavanaugh will be Mrs. McClain and Al Romine of South San Francisco, the local Search for Talent Chairman.

THE EXCHANGE CLUB sponsors the talent competitions annually to help raise funds for the Junior Exchange clubs in local high schools, freedom shrines, and scholarships for the Boy and Girl of the Year awards.

The Daly City Exchange Club branch meets every Monday for luncheon at Toto's Restaurant and prospective members are always welcome to attend, Mrs. McClain indicated.

RUSH MAMBERT, Serra District, chairman of the Bay Area Council of the Boy Scout of America, reports that there is still time for scouts and their spouses to make reservations for the annual Recognition Dinner which will be held May 11 at 6:30 p.m. in Jefferson High School.

The evening's program will include installation of the district's 1972-73 officers; presentation of training awards, Wood Badge beads, Unit Award for Outstanding Advancement; and the Award for Merit to four of the district's scouts.

MRS. MARIO MANGINI proudly reports that members of Mary's Help Hospital Guild continue to work hard on the preparations for the gala Fuchsia Ball slated for May 13, in the Pacific room of the Villa Hotel in San Mateo.

The lovely evening will begin with no-host cocktails at 8:30 p.m. and dinner will be served at 9 p.m. Dancing at the ball will be to the music of Maurice Wolohan's orchestra.

Reservations, costing $30 per couple, are still available and may be arranged by contacting Mrs. Frank Falconi, general chairman of the ball, 755-8388, or Mrs. William Corbett, 731-0314.

SOMETHING NEW in the way of "Race Days" has been initiated by the members of Holy Angels Women's Guild.

Mrs. George Sigigie, publicity chairman, reports that the May 19 Day at the Races being sponsored by the guild, will actually be an evening at the races.

Members and their guests will enjoy a supper buffet in the Turf Club at 6:30 p.m. and conclude the evening by watching the quarter horse races which get underway at 7:45 p.m.

Mrs. James Arena is the chairman of the special event and persons wishing to join the group at Bay Meadows on May 19 are asked to contact her about reservations, (call 756-7005). Tickets are already on sale for $5.50, the total cost of admission to the Turf club and the buffet.

ALSO CALENDARED for May 19 is the St. Andrew's Neighborhood Dance at St. Andrew's Center in the Skyline Shopping Center.

The doors will open at 8 p.m. with dancing — to the music of Rich Silva and his Trio — to run from 9 p.m. until 1 a.m., according to Mrs. William Holland, publicity chairman.

Mr. and Mrs. Dean Smith are the general chairmen of the fun raising, fun-filled evening, and Mr. and Mrs. Caesar Sabbatari are the co-chairmen.

Reservations, costing $1.50 per person, are available to any resident of this city who contacts Mr. and Mrs. Frank Larson at 992-0149.

Camp Fire Groups Hold International Night

Four fifth grade Camp Fire groups from Daly City and Pacifica joined together recently to hold an International Night as part of their fifth grade rank.

The rank requirement they fulfilled tells girls to learn about another country and then to share their information with others. The five groups set up booths in the Abraham Lincoln multiuse room and also provided entertainment typical to the country they studied. Their parents and friends were invited.

The Wa-Han-Ka group with Mrs. William Schoep as guardian studied Japan. They made their booth in the shape of a pagoda and decorated it with cherry blossoms. The girls in the booth demonstrated origami and passed out folded cranes which signify happy-ness. They also passed out chop sticks and rice cookies. For their entertainment, the girls held a tea ceremony and sang a song in Japanese while dressed in colorful kimonos. Girls who took part were Janet McCarthy, Linda Fithian, Lannette Irwin, Colleen O'Callahan, Jackie Ryan, Melva Valle, Corinne Schoep and Ellyn Stuh.

Mrs. Joseph Acquistapace's Ma-Nu-Ka-Wi-Ki-Ya's group chose Italy to study. The girls booth had a pasta and wine display and they served grape juice as wine along with some pisco cookies the girls had baked. They also served Italian candy. Their entertainment consisted of Shelly LaBruzzi playing the piano while the rest of the girls sang Santa Lucia. The girls singing were: Yvette and Yvonne Fluehr, Lisa Acquistapace, Sheryl Berk, Rosland Coulbertson, McClure, Vickie Green, Heidi Christine Shubunka and Debby Piccolotti.

Ireland was the choice of Mrs. John Curran's fifth grade girls. They decorated their booth with the Irish flag and displayed Irish china and glassware. They also served Irish Soda bread the girls had made.

The girls, Jackie Curran, Lenore England, Debbie Geis, Sharon Keens, and Maria Sanchez wore Irish costumes which consisted of green dresses with black belts and white aprons decorated with shamrocks. They danced an Irish jig.

The I Yo Hi Cin Tan Da group with Mrs. Robert Perruquet as guardian chose Mexico. They wore Mexican peasant type clothing and served chocolate Mexicano, pelvorones (tea-cakes), chili con queso, guacamole, and jalapeno bean dip with tortilla chips and mini tacos. A Mexican Hat dance was performed by the girls. Girls dancing were: Naudja Threadgill, Ana Villarreal, Myrna Galindez, Pamela Perrequet, Jill Sellers, Belinda Strouther, Kim Bourdon, Jennifer Jenkins, Bridget Saulny, Christina Bailey and Wendy Thompson.

The Pa-Woh-Lue group chose Norway to learn about. Mrs. Charles Van Winkle is guardian of their group. The girls dressed in red caps and cummerbunds and aprons. In their booth they displayed literature and the many unusual cooking pots and baking utensils in use in Ireland. The girls made crumb cakes which they served. For entertainment they did the clap dance. Girls participating were Jenny Gappa, April Ellis, Lynell Pacheco, Debbie Rosencutter, Vicky Schonduby, Melinda Nethercutt, Julieen Robinson, Terry Van Winkle, Kim Turner, and Annette Heffner.

Wine Tasting, Art Show Set at Millbrae Center

On May 7, 2 p.m. the Millbrae Nursery School will hold its annual fund raising event, a wine tasting and art show to be held at the Millbrae Recreation Center, 477 Lincoln Circle, Millbrae.

The public is invited. A dollar fee for a wine glass will be collected at the door.

The art show will feature a variety of media by a number of Peninsula artists and craftsmen. Included are oils, water colors, ceramics, silk screen, macramé, lithographs, mod podge, stained glass, and wire sculpture.

The wine tasting will include a selection of six California wines, three whites and three reds. Cheese and bread, traditional wine tasting fare, will be served, and live music will provide the afternoon's entertainment. All proceeds will be used to implement the school's scholarship and building programs.

An inter-racial, non-sectarian, parent participation institution, the Millbrae Nursery School is maintained jointly by the parent's co-operative group and the College of San Mateo. Mrs. Marjorie Wheeler is executive director. An open house for all interested prospective students and parents will be held at the school, 86 Center Street, May 16, 3 to 4:30 p.m. For further information call 589-3028.

Members of the Fund Raising Committee include Mrs. Russell Janney, Chairman, and the Mmes. Murdo Nicolson, Robert Johnson, John Brasesco, Alan Burkhalter, Daniel Newton, Douglas Maddon, and Larry Hofziger.

Millbrae Newcomers' Club Slates Lunch Thursday

A Polynesian theme has been chosen for the Millbrae Newcomers Club luncheon meeting Thursday at the Castaways Restaurant. An 11:30 a.m. social hour will precede the 12:30 p.m. meal.

In keeping with the theme, a film on Hawaii will be presented by United Air Lines.

Mrs. Mike Monozon and Mrs. Lee Waltherding will be introduced as new members during the afternoon.

Meeting Set For Westlake Catholic Women

Mrs. Eugene Bertorelli will preside at the Westlake Catholic Women's meeting on Monday evening, thus ending her term in office.

The monthly gathering will convene following the 8 p.m. devotional service at Our Lady of Mercy Church.

Mrs. John Kachur will give the financial report on the recent spring festival. Mrs. Clyde Silverthorn will announce plans for the May 21 installation breakfast at the Olympic Club. The highlight of the evening will be the introduction, by the nominating committee, of the 1972-73 incoming officers.

Both incoming and retiring officers will be honored during the social hour following the meeting. Mrs. Julian Fernando will be in charge of the hostesses for the evening.

JESD MENU

Menu for the Jefferson Union High School District schools for the week of May 8-9:

Wednesday — Sloppy Joe, French fries, carrot sticks, fruit cobbler-whipped topping.

Thursday — Pizza with meat and cheese; green salad-spinach, seasoned string beans, French bread, strawberry shortcake-cream.

Friday — Hot turkey sandwich, fluffy mashed and sweet potatoes, fruit mallow salad, pumpkin pie, ice cream.

Saturday — Pizzaburger, French fries, beef vegetable soup, fruit crisp.

Sunday — Beef enchilada, stewed rice and tomato, tossed salad, cornmeal roll, raisin cookie.

The club's annual Spring Dinner Dance has been calendared for May 6 at Brentwood Lodge in South San Francisco. "The Roaring Twenties" will be the theme of the event which will feature a Charleston contest, the awarding of prizes and dancing to the music of Tony Masters. Mrs. Joseph Klein is party chairman.

Prior to the dance, cocktail parties will be hosted by Mesdames Bill Baxter, Ken Funk and Robert Thornton at their respective homes. Assisting them will be Mrs. Allan Baker and Mrs. Morris Peterson.

Persons who have resided in Millbrae for less than a year are eligible to belong to the group and may contact Mrs. Virginia Ascher for information.

AS KING SEXTIMUS the Silent, Daly City resident Tom Martinez (far left), seems to be puzzling over the fact that Queen Agravain (Michele Raymond) has got the better of her son Prince Dauntless (Jim Wells) once again. Tom and his fellow actors are rehearsing for Skyline College's spring musical, Once Upon A Mattress, which will open on May 19. Martinez is one of Skyline's fastest rising stars. Tom became a drama major this fall after serving as an assistant to the director for The Visit. Soon after this decision he garnered a small part in Don Juan, followed by the important role of Richard in Lion in Winter. Since recently moving to Daly City, Tom has completed a starring role in an outer space flack by an independent film company. With his role of King Sextimus, Tom enters the demanding art of pantomime for the first time. Michele Raymond, of South San Francisco, and a graduate of South San Francisco High School, is in her second year of study as a drama major. She has been seen in both Don Juan, and The Visit. Michele was selected as the head of the costume crew for Ten Nights in a Barroom, the head of properties for Lion in Winter and will serve as stage manager for Salome.

There Is a Magic in Sports

There's a cry of violence in the air and the din of protest. But who can hear them above the umpires cry, "Play Ball."

There is a magic in sports that unites men, something that gives them a "Joyful mind to bear through life like a torch in flames and falling fling to the host behind. Play up! Play up! and play the game." (Henry Newball)

There is something about sports that made Mark Twain write of one of them, "Ah, this is a sport which makes the body's very liver curl with enjoyment." Commenting about this quality in sports, the general manager of the Associated Press, Wes Gallagher, writes, "Sports have an international language all their own. The various countries differ in customs and ideologies — and frequently go to war to defend them — but all find a common ground on the athletic field. There are few nations that do not have respect for the stronger, the faster and the more skillful man." Mr. Gallagher's statement is found in the preface of a delightful book, A Century of Sports.

IT IS THE STORY of games, more than forty of them, in the United States. Here is an opportunity to recall the golden age of sports of the 1920s and '30s. Here is an opportunity to see every facet of what has been termed the "continuing madness" that impels people to the stadium, to the diamond, to the rink, to the outdoors for skiing, sailing, hunting, tennis and golf.

Did you know that many of the rules of modern League. While some people say baseball is no longer Abner Doubleday picked up his first bat? The first pro club was the Cincinnati Red Stockings. Its highest paid player receiver $1400. The National League was formed in 1876 and the American League in 1901. They both warred and finally defeated such associations as the Brotherhood of Players League and the Federal League. While some people say baseball is no longer the national sport, 29,203,589 Americans bought tickets to 1971's major league games.

"The impact of table tennis," write the authors of A Century of Sports, "sounds like a thunderclap." Nevertheless, table tennis has been around for better than half a century. Some people say that it was the brainchild of a British army officer in India. Others say that he wasn't in India at all, but in South Africa. Whatever its origin, table tennis owes its development to a Yankee manufacturing firm named Parker Brothers, who gave it the name of ping pong.

IN 1911, ON LABOR DAY, spectators shelled out $155,000 to watch a wrestling match. Wrestling American free style has been the sport of such widely different characters as Abraham Lincoln, Joseph Smith, Professor Edward Clark Gallagher, and of course Gorgeous George.

Auto racing was the sport of the Vanderbilts and the Whitneys until a 38 year old house painter entered a car that produced only 29 horsepower from its two cylinder engine, but he won the race at a speed of seventy-two miles per hour and with the purse of $1000 got into the automobile business. His name was Henry Ford.

At least "1000" pictures enhance the words that are recorded in A Century of Sports, making it one of the most enjoyable books of the 1972 season.

Better Business

The Controversy Over Beef Prices

Specialists within and outside the beef industry are unanimous in the belief that the consumer gets his money's worth for the amount he spends on beef.

Agriculture Secretary Earl Butz, in an interview, said higher retail prices for beef have resulted from higher purchasing power in the hands of housewives and not from a shortage of supply. Dr. Earl Brown professor of business management at Cornell University and expert in agricultural economics, states, "It is almost impossible to try to get at the net profits for any one time in the meat department of a food store, but if you could consider all the costs involved in meat operations you would find that the food chains are selling beef near the breakeven point."

Who gets the consumer beef dollar?

REP. JOHN M. ZWACH, of Minnesota, introduced into the Congressional Record a breakdown of beef costs using figures for the fourth quarter of 1971, which included part but not all of the recent uptrend in cattle and beef prices. A 1000-pound choice-grade live steer is sold by a farmer or feedlot operator for $327.79 or about 33 cents per pound. This figure does not include transportation or marketing charges.

By the time the steer has been slaughtered and divested of hide, internal organs and other by-products not classified as meat, the packing company has a beef carcass weighing around 620 pounds. This is sold on the wholesale market for about 55 cents per pound for the net remaining weight or approximately for $340.10.

The meat packer sells the by-products, including hide, tongue, tripe and liver, weighing a total of 193 pounds for $20.65. This amount is deducted by economists from the $327.79 paid the farmer to arrive at an adjusted "farm value" for the red meat of $307.14.

THE BEEF CARCASS, sold by the wholesaler for $340.10 to a supermarket chain, hotel or independent grocery store, must be transported, cut up, packaged and, in case of hamburger, ground for the consumer. In the process, after excess bone, fat and other waste material has been trimmed, the original 620-pound carcass averages out 463 pounds. A 5 per cent reduction in the retail cuts from spoilage and theft can be counted upon which leaves 439 pounds of beef for retail sale to consumer from the original 1000-pound steer.

The price of meat cuts vary widely from about 69 cents a pound for hamburger cuts to over $2 per pound for steaks. The 439 pounds left of the original carcass averages $468.40 or about $1.07 per pound, more than three times the original on-the-hoof cost per pound. Allowing $20.65, the amount received by the meat packer for by-products, according to the breakdown, there was a markup of $161.26 on the steer from the time it left the feedlot until it ended up in the consumer's shopping cart.

Who gets the consumer beef dollar?

ANN MARIE DALY, a native of Ireland, is the new Miss Pacifica. She was crowned Saturday night. She is a student at Skyline College.

"We found your recent columns about radio history most interesting. We wondered if you might have any information about WLW in Cincinnati, Ohio. Both my husband and myself grew up in Cincinnati and recall the fine programs that the station broadcast. At one time the station actually had 500,000 watts of power. I believe they called it the "Nation's Station."

Mrs. E.K.L. Belmont

We have been in contact with WLW several times in the past couple of years. Fortunately for radio fans in the middle-West, Powell W. Crosley Jr., started WLW when he needed a reason for people to buy the little crystal sets he was manufacturing in his factory just outside of Cincinnati.

To middle-west radio listeners WLW was a truly regional station. After dark it sent signals as far away as Colorado, Alberta, all over the East Coast and into the Caribbean area. To many listeners, it was just about the only radio station that could be depended upon.

Because Powell Crosley believed in live programming and because his station was so powerful it attracted young talent. Red Skelton, Doris, Day, Andy Williams, Ma Perkins, Ernie Ford, Rosemary Clooney and her sister Betty were just a few of those who started on the station.

Norman Corwin, one of the top writers and producers during radio's "golden age," started his career on WLW. "Singing Sam," who became famous as "Singing Sam the Barbasol Man," started at WLW. At that time because he was selling lawn mowers he was, naturally, "Singing Sam the Lawn Mower Man."

The Mills Brothers, who are still singing, started out in Cincinnati working for WLW. Little Jack Little and his Orchestra were a long-time favorites on the station and Jane Froman who later became an opera singer was a star of the station.

Red Barber and Durwood Kirby broadcast baseball games over the station. "Dr. I.Q." and "Ma Perkins," were creations of the station as were "Mr. District Attorney" and "Famous Jury Trials."

My friend Mary Woods who now is Cincinnati's top television columnist was a top writer on WLW. "I worked with Rod Serling, Lew Valentine, Norman Corwin and several others," she recalled.

In the depth of the depression it was WLW's Paul Sullivan with the 10 o'clock news who managed to detail with clarity the complicated changes which were occurring in American life. He later became a big name with WHAS, Louisville after having a falling out with Powell Crosley and Franklin D. Roosevelt.

Just before the coming of television, WLW talent scouts spotted the three McGuire girls from Hamilton, Ohio. They became the famous McGuire Sisters of Arthur Godfrey fame.

WLW was the first station in the nation to broadcast facsimile newspapers. The station was 50 years ahead of its time for it may still be another dozen years or so before such a thing becomes a reality.

MONDAY JOHNNY CARSON completed a trip. Johnny seemed to feel all these years, despite his great success, that he was relegated to the minor leagues so to speak, when he had to go to New York after his CBS show, "Carson's Cellar" flopped. Johnny went to New York to take over the daytime "Who Do You Trust?" from Edgar Bergen.

True, Johnny has been in Burbank many times since becoming the hottest late night television personality in television, but, as he put it recently to a reporter, it wasn't really coming home.

Monday, then Johnny made his return to California. The network is so delighted about the return that it even is going to the expense of building a new headquarters for Johnny at the Burbank.

IT MAY COME as a surprise to a lot of people, but the young man at Universal Studios in Universal City who is concerned with foreign production is the son of a famous actor and early day television star, Stuart Erwin Jr.

Although he maintains an office in the huge black tower on the Universal lot he will be doing quite a little traveling during the coming months.

In addition to worrying about any Universal films for TV made overseas he'll be busy with the three series Universal is making with BBC support. "Don Quixote" stars Rex Harrison and "Colditz" stars David McCallum.

The most ambitious series however, will be twenty-six parter, "History of the English Language," "History of the English Speaking Peoples," to be filmed all over the English-speaking world.

In addition to doing three series for the BBC, Universal is also talking to French, Italian and German television about specially produced series. Universal would have a reservoir of features and series for U.S. television.

DICK CAVETT is being put on a sort of probation. ABC announced late last week that Cavett had been signed only to a three-month contract. If he does not improve his rating in that period, ABC spokesmen indicated, his show will be cancelled.

Ever since Merv Griffin left the air on CBS and was replaced with old movies, Cavett has been taking a beating in the ratings. ABC is planning a powerful new late evening show to replace Cavett early next fall.

Mechanical Plans

Why do our technological and mechanical plans so often succeed, while those designed for human needs so often fail? Monsignor Carroll-Abbing of Boys' Town of Italy may have an answer.

Irish by birth, the Monsignor has lived in Italy since 1930. After taking degrees in theology and law, he was assigned by Pope Pius XI to the Vatican service in 1938. In 1943 he was assigned by Pope Pius XII to assist the civilian population during the Nazi occupation. When Rome was liberated in June of 1944, his first thought was to return to his former post at the Vatican. Instead, the crisis continued. The country was devastated and one and a half million refugees were living in Rome.

Monsignor Carroll-Abbing was the head of all volunteer services during this period. Along with other duties, he established soup kitchens for between 160,000 and 180,000 children and dealt with all of the problems of supply and distribution.

It seemed to him, however, that he was just keeping the kids alive. He knew that the walls of Rome were used to freedom and would not exchange it for food and shelter alone. They must feel they belonged to something and have a reason to live away from the corruption of the streets. With this thought in mind, the Monsignor opened a refuge near the railroad station in Rome during the Christmas season of 1944. Here, he lived and worked in a cellar and the youngsters drifted in and out.

But even this wouldn't do. The friendliness and immediate contact for a short period was no long run solution to the making of men. Realizing this, the Monsignor resigned from the Vatican service and devoted himself to organizing the first Boys' Town. Within a few years Monsignor Carroll-Abbing founded nine Boys' Towns and one Girls' Town. These flourish today.

Mutual respect is central to their success. He quotes Meniscus, who three centuries before Christ wrote: "To love another and not to respect him is to treat him like a household pet." The Monsignor recognizes the need that each of the boys "believe in his own worth," and be regarded "not as one of the crowd but as an individual to be treated with respect." He remembers that Christ said to his disciples, "If I, being your Lord and Master, have washed your feet, you also ought to wash one another's feet."

Emphasizing the importance of self esteem, the Boys' Towns are governed and actually managed by an assembly composed of citizens — the boys. These elect a mayor and commissioners, maintain a financial system, issue currency, and run all of the affairs of a Boys' Town, excepting education.

The Monsignor accepts the need of institutional form in which large numbers of boys live together. He rejects, however, the concept of institutional living and seeks to give each boy "capacity to face life." In this way, the boys are not just being fed, clothed, housed, and educated. With respect and responsibility, his method exalts those qualities that make humans different from other living creatures.

He believes that the concepts of responsibility, motivation and respect can be applied to other programs and organizations that might otherwise become mere "institutions." He believes man is capable of error, that individuals and groups do make mistakes, but that these risks must be taken. In the course of a lengthy private conference, I asked about the problems of giving so much responsibility to boys. He acknowledged that mistakes had been made, and more will be made, but sees the trial and error method as essential to human development.

What does this say to us? America has many technically excellent programs. Colleges and universities, penal institutions, high schools, homes for young and old, and businesses all attain a high degree of technical and mechanical proficiency. But where we are failing and failing is in mutual respect and individual responsibility. We have much to learn from Monsignor Carroll-Abbing, for long after the Boys' Towns may be gone, it will be remembered that one man's belief in self respect and responsibility gave hope and life and love where there could well have been none.

Letters to the Editor

WHY LETTER

To the Editor:

This letter is to advise your readers concerning my recent letter pertaining to Cathy Smallwood and the Open Education Program at Skyline College. As individuals, we do wish her well in her campaign for City Council in Daly City.

That first letter was written in response to a photograph and caption in a North County newspaper stating that the OEP, among others, endorsed this candidate. Such was not the case as the Program, an educational unit, does not endorse anyone. Subsequent contact with Cathy's campaign headquarters indicated that the caption had been in error as a result of misinterpretation. Such being the case, this letter followed.

MANUEL C. CARRILLO, Director, Open Education Program, Skyline College.

EDITORIAL SLIGHT

To the Editor:

I am responding to two instances of covert editorial bias and slight, discovered in The Post, April 5, 1972:

1. In my answers to the questionnaire printed on page (3) three, my statement was edited to remove my complaint that I had not received a questionnaire from The Post, and that, had I received one, it most assuredly would have been answered on time. I was not aware that my statement was to be edited, and I doubt that any other candidate's statement was edited without permission.

2. On the "Letters to the Editor" page, a letter was printed which, in essence, cast doubt upon my integrity. (The writer of that letter, since then, has sent a letter to the San Mateo Times, referring to his letter in The Post, correcting the harmful implication it contained and asserting his full personal support of my candidacy.) The editor of The Post printed the derogatory letter without contacting me. Had he regarded my candidacy as a serious one, I'm sure that he would have discussed the letter with me for my comment, prior to printing it.

These two "put-downs" are more than a personal slight; they are a slight to a great number of people who support me and who are working to elect me as their official representative. The editor will probably claim these slights were inadvertent. Perhaps so! But our experience is that inadvertent slights occur with greater frequency to Black candidates, to women candidates, and to candidates who seriously challenge the status quo. Therefore, the editor should have been particularly circumspect in his treatment of such a candidate, thereby guaranteeing respect for the candidate's constituency.

CATHERINE (Cathy) SMALLWOOD, Daly City.

(The above letters were written prior the April election in Daly City, but were received too late for publication prior to that time.)

Student Needs Blood Donations

LESLIE ENNIS, the 13-year-old Ben Franklin student burned badly in a fire at her home last month, needs your help. A call has gone out for blood donors. The Jefferson Council of P-TAs is handling arrangements and potential donors are asked to call either Mrs. Peter O'Neill (992-0650) or Arlene Lowe (755-9908) or (6597). Transportation will be furnished to and from the Irwin Memorial Blood Bank in San Francisco or Peninsula Blood bank on Thursday, May 11. The child was badly burned when gasoline exploded at her home several weeks ago. Leslie is in UC Medical Center (Moffett) in San Francisco.

BEFORE YOU EVEN consider selling your home in the so-called "prime target area" of the Daly City redevelopment project (around the BART station) call Beverly Dikas (755-6700), Vince Merlo (755-9908), or George Smith 755-8161. Too many rumors are going around about redevelopment and some people are being panicked into selling. The Mission Merchants Association last week elected to do something about it. They set up a "Rumor Center" and ask that folks contemplating selling their homes call before they sign on the dotted line. It's possible some folks are being fast-talked into parting with their property and the merchants want to help. Try 'em, you'll like 'em.

FLASHY FLASH — May 7 is fast approaching and we would remind that this is the final date a person may take out an absentee ballot for the upcoming June primaries. Don't miss your chance to vote. Check with your city hall. It's free and guaranteed absolutely painless.

WE WOULD BE REMISS if we did not print here JESD trustee Edward Tomasello's reply to our questions on credit car phone calls.

Mr. Tomasello said he felt the calls were necessary in the performance of his duties while away from the city and called the editor of a Daly City throwaway, his home, JESD Personnel Commissioner Thomas Noonan, and Trustee Beverly Forrester, among others, to keep in touch with what was going on. He said he felt these calls were out-of-pocket expenses and he was not expected to pay for such items. The trustee was on his own vacation time while attending a school conference in Montreal, Canada, returning via Boston.

ON THE MATTER of phone calls made by Personnel Commissioner Mrs. Jeanne Kennaugh, also on a credit card, we have read with unbelieving eyes that we taxpayers should be proud of achievements spurred on in this field by Mrs. Kennaugh and the JESD Board should be more than happy to pick up the phone tab. Nuts! It goes without saying citizens are justly proud of their fellow citizens' achievements in whatever field. But not to a point where they get carte blanche on whatever to their heart's content. That tax load is getting heavy and I for one am getting mighty weary.

AND I FRANKLY resent having to associate with a person in this profession that labels the general public "garbage," "comedians" and worse. Perhaps some of the audience attending JESD board meetings are out of line with their emotional outbursts. But, then, I feel some of the actions taken by the Board and current Administration are a little out of line, also. The only difference, in my book, is that when the district makes a boo-boo it ain't no laughing matter.

THANKS AGAIN JUDGE. — This is a true story. Even the names will remain the same because otherwise you wouldn't believe it. Seems a young man appeared before Muni Judge Charles Becker last week charged with driving with a suspended license. The man's attorney indicated that an arrangement had been arrived at between himself, the DA and his client. And they were prepared to plead guilty.

JUDGE BECKER informed the young man that if he in fact plead guilty he would be sent to jail. The man said he understood this, whereupon Judge Becker sentenced him to 60 days in the county slam in Redwood City. The Defense Attorney leaped to his feet vigorously protesting the action, saying it wasn't in the deal he had made with the DA. Both the DA and defense attorney asked for reconsideration of the stiff sentence.

TURNING TO THE defendant, Judge Becker asked him if he thought the 60 days was a fair sentence? "Yes, I do, your honor. Thank you." Next case.

THERE'S GOTTA BE something in that pineapple juice they drink in the islands. It makes people strong and happy, as evidenced by smiling Kenneth Rowe from Oahu, Hawaii. Kenneth and wife Karen are visiting scavenger company president, Al Sereni, in Daly City. The couple, without calling ahead, simply walked in (smiling) on the Sereni's last week. The Rowes and Serenis are old friends.

SO OLD, IN FACT, that there's a story circulating about Kenneth, Al and Councilman Tony Giammona. It all happened at Fort Ord during the Second Big One in the 40's. Al's wife, Angie went down to visit, and the couple were harassed by some paratroopers on the base. Sereni returned to his barrack and asked friend Kenneth to come to his aid, which he did, much to the misfortune of the paratroopers. Seems one of the paratroopers was D.C. Councilman Tony Giammona. The Shadow knows many things.

THAT WASN'T DRACULA roaming around the darkened exterior of the Daly City Police Department the other night. Lt. Tom Culley and fellow cops thought it was at first. A fellow attired in top hat, long flowing cape, gloves and (get this) spats was seen meandering around outside the building under a full moon.

Culley said he wasn't a bit afraid of the nocturnal prowler, but he took a wooden stake outside with him when police confronted the man "just in case."

Pacifica Hillside Codes Criticized by Several Citizens

Wednesday, May 3, 1972 THE POST -17

Pacifica planning commissioners Thursday heard three hours of residents' comment on that city's proposed hillside development ordinance the essence of which was that the ordinance is not strong enough to protect against excessive development.

Although all persons in the audience of about 75 desiring to be heard were, Chairman Al Rosenberg kept the hearing open and set another meeting on the matter for 8 p.m. May 10 at Terra Nova High School.

At last week's meeting Rosenberg asked those persons favoring the ordinance to speak first. At least half those present trouped forward one-by-one and said they favored the intent of the ordinance but each one had a comment on how it may be further strengthened. Only two said specifically they were against it, and that was because it wasn't strong enough, too.

Unsuccessful council candidate Jim Treanor pointed out that it was automatically being assumed that the hills had to be developed. He questioned the basis of this assumption. He said that developers were not concerned with the public, but were interested "in making a profit."

Treanor also questioned the proposed structure of review board which calls for one council member and two planning commissioners. He noted that whatever the review board recommends has to go to the planning commission and city council ultimately anyhow.

"This board should consist of seven citizens who are representative of the public. We should keep politics out of membership on the board," said Treanor. He said the proof of the effectiveness of the ordinance would be in its enforcement. "Past practices of this city doesn't encourage me in this regard," he said.

Resident Ferd Simons struck on this same chord, saying the makeup of the review board should consist of a person trained in the biological disciplines.

"We should have someone capable of evaluating the impact of all life on the hills, not just the human. The ecological considerations are much more potentially hazardous than the aesthetic," he said.

A man identifying himself as Robert Sherman, a San Mateo architect, said the ordinance was ambitious and arbitrary and the commission would be wise to meet with the developers and fill in specifics.

"If it is put into effect as it is everything will be a matter of individual interpretation, and there will be a lot of unhappy developers," said Sherman, noting that a majority of income for Pacifica is derived from the construction business.

This point of view angered resident Nate Marks who said he respected Sherman's right to his viewpoint but that the matter of establishing criteria for a hillside ordinance should be left to the people it will most directly affect — Pacifica residents.

SSF Mermen Repeat

By JOHN GETTLE

Other than five varsity and seven frosh-soph records being broken in NPL swimming — everything remained the same.

South San Francisco took championship honors — the eighth time in the last 10 campaigns — by an 80-plus margin in Friday's NPL finals.

The varsity team results were: SSF 128.5, TN 45.5, Jeff 36.0, EC 34.0 and Oceana 24.0.

The frosh-soph results were not much different, except that individuals from almost every school turned in at least one creditable performance.

The frosh-soph team results were: TN 128.0, Oceana 59.0, SSF 50.0, Jeff 33.0 and EC 20.0.

Out of 27 entries in the meet, SSF placed 15 among the top three place finishers in each event. They also took first place honors in both of the relay events, setting league records along the way.

El Camino's Bob Madrigal went wild. He entered two events — the 200 and 400-yard freestyles — and set league records in both of them. In each case he led the pack by at least 10 seconds.

Mike Neal, a Terra Nova product, was also a double winner. Mike took the 100 breaststroke and diving competition. His breaststroke time set a league record.

The frosh-soph competition witnessed eight records set in 11 events. The one that was not broken (100 breast) was set in the trials held earlier this week.

Terra Nova's Rich Motylewski set records in the 100 individual medley and 100 breast.

Bob Ramsey of Oceana established a couple while winning the 50 free and 50 butterfly events. Both swimmers were members of winning relay teams.

South San Francisco, undefeated in regular season, took first in five of eight events and placed a total of 27 men in the 48 open positions for April 19 NPL Finals.

Terra Nova, beaten only by SSF, was attempting to take the finals and as a result, share first place with the Warriors. However, they were only able to place six men in position to do so. They were lucky enough to place five of those men in different events.

Overall double winners in the meet were John Holzwarth of SSF, who took the 100 and 200 freestyle events and Mark Sackett, also of SSF, who claimed the backstroke and butterfly titles.

One of the more important matchups of the meet saw Holzwarth beat El Camino's Bob Madrigal in the 200 free John won by two seconds; Madrigal was three full seconds off his best for the year.

Two-tenths of a second separated the first three finishers in the 50 freestyle contest, won by Jefferson's Gary MacArthur. His time was 24.7, one-half second off of his posted April 7 clocking, which was the league's best this year.

Holzwarth tied a league record in the 100 free when he turned in a 52.9. MacArthur swam a full two seconds off of John's torrid pace ending up with a 54.2.

Madriga set a league record when he led the pack by a full twenty seconds in the 400 free, clocking 4:17.3.

The Frosh-Soph competition witnessed six records smashed by one of the most impressive crops of young swimmers to come along in years.

Front-running double winners were Mike Morrow of Oceana, who took the 200 and 400 free events, and Rich Motylewski of Terra Nova, who captured the individual medley and breaststroke competition.

The NPL Finals will be held at Jefferson Friday at 3:15.

Cap Surprises Dons

It's twilight time for prep track teams now — the end of the dual meet season. Championships have been decided, but league meets and postseason biggies are yet to come.

In Mid-Peninsula League meets Thursday, Aragon ran into a manpower problem and got upset by Capuchino 71-64. Crestmoor rolled over Hillsdale 104-31, and San Mateo beat Mills 123-13. In each meet the losing team was missing some key men.

North Peninsula League power South San Francisco beat Serramonte 90-15.

Several Aragon athletes were set down for missing a practice session, including a top member of the mile relay team. It would have been a strong race — the meet depended on it and both schools had excellent past clockings: Aragon 3:29.9 and Capuchino 3:30.6. As it was, the Cap quartet of Frank Budesa, Shane Graham, Dave Posluch and Doug Hofer took it in 3:35.3.

Bill Popin took two wins for Aragon, in the 100 and 220. Cap's John Fagnani had a good 53-4 shot put and also won the discus with a 146-10 toss. Aragon pole vaulter Dave Graham cleared 13-0 for the first time.

Crestmoor was a heavy favorite against Hillsdale, but had an easier time than expected — the Knights' top weight man, Steve House, was injured and their best hurdler, Chuck Lucas, had just taken seven stitches in his head the day before and could not compete. House experimented throwing the discus, left-handed and managed 110-0.

Most of the times were not good; conditions were as bad as Hillsdale coach Bill Anderson had ever seen. The wind was strong enough to keep Crestmoor's ace hurdler, Bart Pierce, way over his usual clockings (15.2 and 20.5). Pierce had run 19.3 in the lows at Modesto last weekend, to go along with Mike Paul's 1:58.9 half mile.

Pat Kafos won the 100 and 220 for Crestmoor. Hillsdale got wins from Scott Gehagan (mile), Scott McCallum (880), Don Pemberton (two mile) and Rory MacArthur (high jump).

Cats, Vikes Fight for Playoff

It's down-the-stretch time in the Mid-Peninsula League.

And there are at least two guys who apparently are going to make the most of it — Gary Bei and Mike Walker.

Friday at Capuchino, Bei rapped out three hits, scored three runs, and drove in three to lead Mills to an eight-inning 6-5 upset win over the Mustangs.

Meanwhile, Walker had three hits including the eventual game winner in San Mateo's 5-0 blanking of Aragon last night at Beresford Park.

Both players had suffered through frustrating early season slumps, both collected five hits in two games this week.

Burlingame, just a half-game behind MPL leader Hillsdale got "winded-out" at Crestmoor. With one inning of play completed with no score, umpires called the game because 50-60 m.p.h. winds had created conditions possibly dangerous to participants. It will be continued from the top of the second on Tuesday afternoon.

Bei had plenty of support from his Viking teammates, who moved back into playoff contention. Mike Signori had three hits. Hurler Gus Profumo went the entire eight, with six strikeouts and three walks.

Starting with Bei's home run on the second pitch of the game, the two clubs battled back and forth until Pete Santora's two-out bases-loaded single tied things for cap in the bottom of the seventh.

But Mills came back in the overtime for two walks, sandwiched around Dom Puccinelli's perfect sacrifice. A throwing error on an attempted double-play scored Bei (who else?) with the winning run.

The Bearcats, who also move into the play-off battle along with Crestmoor, Cap and the Vikings for the last two spots, packed all their offensive oomph into the third inning.

With one out, Kevin Nuckles singled and was sacrificed to second by Rich Yamaguma. Keith Rice walked and Bruce Meyers singled to load the bases.

Walker then singled to drive in a pair, and Jim Lysgaard followed with another walk, again loading the bases. Winning pitcher Mark Langridge walked to force in a run, and Mike Hagarty singled to score two more. Langridge struck out 15 and walked four along his way to a two-hitter, using an exceptional fastball and curve.

Hedden Tops MPL Again

Burlingame High centerfielder Bill Hedden is the leading hitter in the Mid-Peninsula League for the sixth straight week, according to the latest Post statistics. Hedden is 9-18, an even 500.

San Mateo's Mike Walker is second at .414 (12-29); he has broken a slump last week with a 5-6 flurry.

Unbeaten Hillsdale has the best overall average (.218) and the most runs (42).

Burlingame southpaw Frank Weber is still the top hurler, with no earned runs in 22 innings. Crestmoor's Jim Raymond is close behind with just one in 30 innings (0.23).

SSF in Control

By JERRY LITTELL

South San Francisco High

School is now in a position to make a shambles of the North Peninsula League baseball chase with a full six games remaining in the regular schedule.

Bob Brian's lusty lads took care of their closest competition, Half Moon Bay, on Friday at Orange Park, 9-3, and sport a full two-game advantage over the pack heading towards the midway point of the second round. In other conference action around the windy area Terra

Nova downed visiting El Camino, 4-2, while Westmoor upended Serramonte, 11-3. Both Westmoor and Terra Nova have the best chance at overtaking the Warriors, but it will take a lot of cooperation now from second-division clubs as well as some key wins in face-to-face confrontations.

The face-to-face matchup Friday was no contest after the third inning. The Warriors jumped all over surprise sophomore starter Ray Reyes, who possesses all the tools except control and experience.

Frankie Reyes' younger brother ran into control problems in the second inning, when he walked the bags loaded and left, switching places with his older brother.

The Cougar defense also contributed to the grim brothers' downfall with eight errors.

The elder Reyes struck out one man but up again came pinch hitter Bruce Lau, who dumped a two-run single into left field for the go-ahead run. It was the second straight game in which Lau's pinch hit mean the victory, and with a fourth-inning single he extended his streak to three-for-three.

Terry Hendley picked up the win on a five-hitter. The Warriors are now 7-1.

Senior righthander John Racanelli picked up 12 strikeouts in nearly seven innings of pitching, but had to give way to sophomore left-hander Steve Shirley to get the final out. Racanelli had struck out the final batter but a passed ball gave him first base, enabling Shirley to come in for still another win.

Passed balls were Racanelli's bane all day. Camino scored in the first when Rich Wright singled and three passed balls allowed him to score.

If Mike Taylor takes extra base-running practice, it's because his feet prevented him from coming through with a two-home-run day. The Terra Nova shortstop hit a shot to left-center in the fourth inning, but tripped and fell rounding third and had to settle for a triple.

He then followed that with a two-run homer in the sixth. Oddly enough Taylor had mistaken the bunt sign from Tiger coach Marty Coll for the hit sign, so rather than a sacrifice bunt he got a two-run home run.

Ted Grey and Casey singled to open the game and when the Regents misplayed Gary Stiller's grounder, Grey scored. Brad Kearns walked to load the bags and Steve Murray punched out a two-run double. Mark Racette's infield out gave the Rams their fourth run of the inning.

There's pitching help for the pitching-talented Terra Nova Tigers ready on the sophomore level already.

Terra Nova's ace pitcher, a 4-3 fireballer, threw a no-hitter at his El Camino counterpart yesterday, 3-0, striking out 11 and walking three to mar a perfect performance.

Reggie Zertuche hit a three-run homer in the seventh inning to give the Tigers the victory.

Westmoor knocked over co-first place Half Moon Bay April 23, 8-4, leaving South San Francisco, 5-0 victor over Jefferson, all alone in first place as second round action opened on all fronts. El Camino just did outlast Serramonte, 11-10, while Terra Nova attempted to get back into the thick of things with a 5-1 victory over Oceana.

Down 4-0, Westmoor rallied back by playing long ball against ace righthander Frankie Reyes. Three doubles, three triples and a home run provided most of the power in the 13-hit attack.

Gavin Long picked up the win with a seven-hitter for the Rams and chipped in one double and one triple along the way.

Brad Kearns snapped out of his personal slump in the fourth by opening with a triple. Steve Murray then walked and Kearns came on a round-the-horn double play. Long singled and Chuck Colendrez smashed a home run to close the gap to 4-3.

Brad Casey got on via a fielder's choice, and scored when Murray shot a double down the leftfield line. Long then tripled in the sixth, and scored after Brian McNamara's triple.

So well did Rick Haggstrom have things under control for South City that the Warrior outfielders had only one putout all day against Jefferson. The Indians kept hitting infield ground-ers against the curve-balling senior who fired a three-hitter.

Dennis Yamamoto's first-inning single, followed by a walk to Hank Love and a Jeff error gave Haggstrom all he really was to need. Love's bases-loaded walk in the second forced in Bob Bachold with a second run before a three-run third put things away.

Jeff Rice, Rob Goldstein and Haggstrom all singled to load the bags. While Haggstrom was beating out his infield hit, Rice scored the third run. A passed ball moved the runners up before Bachold's bunt scored the fourth run. A double steal ended the Warrior scoring.

Bob Marty, a first basemen who was forced to catch when an injury sidelined first-stringer Rudy Castellanos several weeks ago, made his first varsity mound

Will Slocum gathering items for Willpower.

'No Hokum With Slocum'

By TOM POWELL

Every day, Will Slocum ponders and frets and schemes.

He has spent his entire political life on the outside looking in. And he wants to change that.

Will Slocum is an ex-jockey with a bitterly frustrated desire to hold some kind of public office. He has run as a write-in candidate in nearly every political race in the county and has always finished far behind.

But he'll hide his disappointment with a play on words or a little country humor. And, deep down, he'll worry and plot how he might somehow catch the crest of any little popular wave.

Then, one day, people will listen when Assemblyman Will Slocum or Congressman Will Slocum gets up to speak.

But he stands less than five feet tall. He walks with a limp from one too many accidents and he has little of the Aryan appearance that elects the Lindsays and the Tunneys.

So Will Slocum remains outside the mainstream of political life. And he'll keep trying to get in.

He has run as a write-in candidate against Pete McCloskey and Shirley Temple Black, has challenged Leo Ryan and has regularly run for President of the United States. Once he got 97 votes. Another time he landed 194.

He is known by officeholders and editors alike as a dedicated letter-writer. From his middle-class Millbrae home he regularly sends out a little publication called "Willpower" which includes news clippings about current events and comments from his repertoire of sayings.

Beyond that, his impact has been less than dramatic and he has never been taken seriously by either major party.

Slocum started what seemed to be a promising racing career in 1942. It ended in 1954.

"I had a spill and got busted up pretty bad," he said. "Everybody told me I'd better get off the race track and that it would be too dangerous to ride again."

"I had a series of head injuries. They figure that, like a prize fighter, you get too many concussions and one more would be too many. And I'd had my head scrambled a little bit already."

So he left the track and started doing the only thing he knew something about — sign painting. "I started climbing up ladders and climbing up buildings," he said. "And then I made one misstep."

"It was in 1965 — I was working on a sign. It wasn't very high, just a marquee roof. I stepped back to admire my work and there was no place to step back to. So I hit the concrete and broke my back and broke some ribs and cracked my head."

"I finally got to walking again, but one leg is still pretty dead."

That was the end of his working career. And Will Slocum now had plenty of time to think. The result of this thinking wound up in letters to the editor and, of course, Willpower.

"I started up Willpower a year and a half ago," he said. "I make it up and then take it down to a speedy printing company (Please See Page 30, Column 1) and get a hundred copies made for twenty bucks. I'm losing money on the thing, but a few friends have helped me out."

"I really get a chance to think while I'm digging in the garden — planting corn. I cut the grass. I bake bread — which helps me to think a little bit. I do the dishes."

Out of his meditations may come a slogan like "No Hokum With Slocum."

However, with catchy phrases and country humor, he sometimes has trouble getting people to take him seriously.

"It's a big problem," he said. "Everybody says nobody'll take you serious if you start kiddin' around like that."

"Well, really, things are so bad — with the war and everything else — that if I don't kid around, I'm gonna cry."

"You take any clown — any comedian — and scratch the surface a little bit and you'll find a real serious person."

Like any serious politician, Slocum has several proposals on how he'd change things once elected.

"I propose to set up a Better Bingo Bureau," he declared.

"Most of the old people have nowhere to go. This is why they need bingo games and places where they can get together. Every city hall should be a bingo parlor. Every night they could go down and play bingo. One night out of every two weeks they could have a city council meeting and then go back to playing bingo."

"Maybe you could buy a pair of shoes and get a ticket for five bingo cards like you get trading stamps and then go to city hall. Or maybe you could get free bingo cards when you pay your taxes. And you have a chance to win. You don't win very much. But, hopefully, it won't cost you much, either."

"It's nice for people to be able to win something."

For Slocum, most problems can be solved with money. And he isn't too concerned about where it comes from.

"The main problem is that some people have a lot of money and some people don't have enough money. So we could solve the whole thing by taking money from where it is and putting it where it isn't."

"It might be that the whole economy would be running on a money moving business. You'd have to hire people to move the money around. Everybody'd be put to work moving money from one place to another."

Another Slocum program calls for use of different kinds of fuel.

"We've got to start using methane for fuel," he offers. "Methane is derived from sewage. Every time we use the garbage disposal, maybe we could save the sewage somewhere and get a compost and use the product to make methane gas."

"That's why I've suggested that we need a cow in every back yard. It's because the manure itself produces methane. Plus a cow's belch. A cow can belch as much methane in one day as you need to heat an entire home and do your cooking too. So we ought to be able to find some way to get hold of that belch and bottle it."

In foreign policy matters, Slocum doesn't speak so lightly. He proposes that California secede from the Union until the Vietnam war is over.

This year, Slocum is running for the Twenty-seventh District Assembly post of the Peace and Freedom Party ticket. He's certain to win the primary because he's unopposed. But the outcome of the final election is another thing.

Will Slocum may keep writing to the editor, he'll probably keep sending out Willpower, and it's a pretty good bet he'll keep trying for one office or another.

But one thing is certain. He'll continue to ponder and scheme and worry and try to figure some way to get out of his political eddy and into the mainstream.

Serramonte Unit to Meet

The Serramonte High School Association (SHSA) Executive Board meeting will be today at 7:30 p.m. in Conference Room A, led by Chairman Elva Flagg.

A report will be given by Ron Miguel, head of a nominating committee, regarding the selection of candidates for a slate of officers for the 1972-73 year.

SHSA Executive Board is sponsoring a Senior Class fund raising activity, and class president Mike Jones will be on hand to elaborate further on the event.

All executive sessions are open to the public. Serramonte parents, in particular, are encouraged to attend.

Agnews Dilemma Is Told

A sampling of the heartbreak caused by the phasing-out of Agnews State Hospital was given to the County Board of Supervisors last week by a Daly City woman.

She pleaded with the board for help with a problem about her sister, who she said has been a patient at Agnews for 18 years and who responds well to treatment and is quite happy there.

Now, the woman told the supervisors, she has been told that her sister is to be transferred to a rest home in Millbrae. She visited the place, she said, and decided that it would not be right for her sister.

"Patients there seemed to be under very heavy tranquilization," the speaker told the board. "My sister doesn't need that."

She said she has argued with county mental health officials that her sister should be transferred to Napa State Hospital, where she would be able to live little differently than at Agnews. But she was told the program strives to absorb as many of the state hospital patients into each community as possible and that the decision would stand.

"San Mateo County doesn't have anything," the woman asserted. "I do love my sister and I want her where I know she will be safe."

"It's so tragic," she added. "I'm not only interested in my own sister, but in all the other poor people I've seen in the hospital."

The woman said county officials have suggested another rest home in Santa Clara County as a possibility.

"I'll look at it," she told the board, "but I want to be sure that my sister isn't taken away from Agnews in the meantime."

County Manager M. D. Tarshes called the story "typical of the kind of problem caused by the closing of the hospital." He said he would ask Dr. George Pickett, county health and welfare director, to contact the Daly City woman personally and determine whether there is cause to countermand the decision of his staff.

THAI DUTY
U.S. AIR FORCES. Thailand — Sergeant Raul Zavala, son of Mr. and Mrs. Domingo N. Zavala Sr. of 640 Fourth Ave. San Bruno, is a member of the Thailand-based 8th Tactical Fighter Wing that has earned the Pacific Air Forces (PACAF) Outstanding Maintenance Award for 1971.

Sergeant Zavala is a jet aircraft mechanic with the wing at Ubon Royal Thai Air Force Base.

The award is presented annually to the unit with the most effective and efficient aircraft maintenance operation in the command.

Wing Commander Col. James A. Young, in a congratulatory message to all officers and airmen in the unit, said, "Not only do we have the largest, most complex aircraft maintenance operation in the Air Force — we have the best. What more can you ask for?"

The PACAF honor places the wing in competition for Air Force-wide honors for the Distinguished Maintenance Trophy. The award was established by

Condominium Wins Favor in Pacifica

An original two-city condominium proposal turned down by San Bruno seems to be gaining acceptance in Pacifica.

Council members in the coastal city, however, took no action at their April 22 meeting to meeting to approve plans because of an emergency ordinance they passed concerning hillside developments. Most residents in the audience indicated they favored the proposal.

Passage of the ordinance didn't prevent extensive discussion on the condominium proposal of Deane and Deane, Inc., for 284 units on 47.4 acres off the northwest corner of Skyline and Sharp Park Road. The proposal would utilize 6.1 acres for condominiums, 7.4 acres for private roads and parking, 2.7 acres of public roads and 30.6 acres of open space.

As presented Monday night, there would be 132 two-bedroom units, 144 three-bedroom units and 8 four-bedroom units. The plan is to build on the slopes in a step down method.

Councilman Stan Farber expressed concern that Pacifica was getting the short end of the stick because the facility, built like it would be near the San Bruno, Daly City, South San Francisco borders and away about the salt air," he said. Robert Hardesty, representing Deane and Deane, said they also would donate a one-acre park and equip it with an irrigation system, landscaping and some park equipment.

This promised park was welcomed by some Pacificans and termed "a pacification" by others. Concerns expressed by residents were that there was no assurance there wouldn't be building on the open space in the future, that it was near a fault, that there was a fire safety factor and above all that the added

Pacifica Laguna Salada Elementary School District Trustees Thursday in a unanimous vote filed charges for the dismissal of teacher Milton Martin.

The matter was taken up in executive personnel session and received no open discussion. Martin recently had criminal charges of contributing to the delinquency of minors dismissed on a 7-5 hung jury. He was being prosecuted for taking nude and semi-nude pictures of his students for school art projects without parents or school officials' permission. In their action, the school board sought dismissal based on three specifics: immoral conduct, unprofessional conduct and "evident unfitness for service."

Martin has 30 days in which to respond to the resolution of intent to dismiss, which will be sent to him by certified mail. Should Martin choose to answer the charges the matter will be taken before a judge for a trial (without a jury) on these three specific charges. If Martin does not answer the board's resolution then after the 30 days he will be termed officially dismissed. Martin, 57, earlier indicated he intends to retire from the teaching profession, and definitely does not intend to attempt to remain in the Laguna Salada School District.

Steve A. Salvi, of Millbrae, was recently appointed manager of the Receipts and Disbursements Division, formerly Cashiers Division of Metropolitan Life's Pacific Coast Head Office here. Salvi succeeds Walter Rehdisch, cashier, who retires shortly.

S.S.F. Planning Vacancy Listed

South San Franciscans interested in applying for a position on that city's planning commission have been asked to contact the city manager's office for an application form.

The recent election of Councilman Gordon T. Bobbitt, former planning commissioner, has created the vacancy on the city's planning board.

According to city hall spokesmen, the application form should be completed and mailed back to the mayor's office at city hall.

Bruno Mountain Park Urged

County Manager M.D. Tarshes has urged that steps be taken leading to public acquisition of a 1,000-acre regional park atop San Bruno Mountain. Tarshes recommended to the Board of Supervisors that public hearings be held on amending the county General Plan to show the park in its proposed location — south of Guadalupe Canyon Parkway. He noted that the 1968 parks and open space element of the General Plan specifies that the park should include the so-called saddle area north of the throughfare.

The county manager also recommended that the board direct him and other county staffers to discuss with the owner, the Crocker Land Company, and with the federal government and other agencies how the 1,000-acre site could be accomplished. The landowner has proposed to dedicate 500 acres as permanent open space if the county will buy the other 500 acres.

The San Bruno Mountain park was one of several discussions on the general subject scheduled to be held by the supervisors today. Also up for consideration was a $40 million bond issue proposed by the Regional Planning Committee to finance the first phase of the parks and open space program outlined in the General Plan, a review of a concept allowing development of privately held rural land in exchange for public dedication of park and open space property, and a review of land use concepts in the area between the county-owned Memorial and Pescadero Creek parks.

The General Plan approved by the supervisors in 1969 called for acquisition of a 315-acre park in the saddle area of San Bruno Mountain. The landowner made it clear, however, that it wanted to retain the saddle area for private development. The conflict was resolved in talks during the past year with the 1,000-acre proposal south of the parkway being the result.

San Brunan Marks 100 Years of Life

A San Bruno man today was enjoying the beginning of a new century of life with letters from President Nixon and Robert M. Ball, commissioner of social security, to wish him well.

John Edward Stenfors

Stenfors is currently living at the San Bruno Convalescent Home on El Camino Real. He was born in Pori, Finland, the oldest of nine children. He sailed on numerous ships captained by the Olson Company of San Mateo and was a cook aboard silver millionaire James Fair's yacht.

During the gold rush in the Yukon he became friendly with the late Jack London and the two men swapped stories and anecdotes.

He was married twice, the last time at age 80 and survived both his wives. Among his relatives are his daughters, Mrs. Frank Dunn and Mrs. Ray Burns of San Mateo; a granddaughter Mrs. Marilyn Whiting of Lafayette, three grandsons, Fred Wider of Burlingame, William Wider of San Bruno and Frank Dunn Jr. of San Mateo, a niece, J. Monisteri of Burlingame and a nephew, O. Stenfors of Foster City.

Pay Raises Difficult On Coastside

It might be a tough year for Cabrillo Unified School District teaching and school administrative personnel to wangle any hefty pay increases.

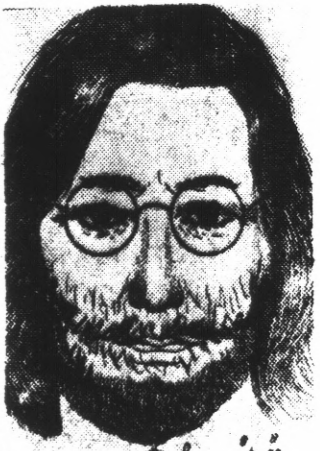

Negotiations will begin soon with the Cabrillo Unified Teachers' association, which this week submitted requests averaging 13.73 per cent hikes in wages and fringe benefits, 13.52 per cent in salaries and 17.66 in fringes.

The proposed teacher package would cost an additional $264,929 over this year's salaries, or just over eight cents per $100 assessed valuation on the district tax rate.

Without adding a proposed 6.8 new teachers to the present staff of 123, the increase would total $199,982, according to figures presented the board.

The trustees laid out their negotiating guidelines which include a new base schedule that would "reflect" a cost of living increase and keeping of the present 12-step schedule.

It then rejected a proposal from the district principals' association that would put four classes of school administrators on a six-step fixed scale for next year, with a low of $16,285 for new intermediate school assistant principals and a high of $23,385 for a high school principal.

A composite drawing of a man witnesses say robbed the Bel-Art Theater and the Dairy Belle Freeze in Belmont and the Millbrae Park a n a k e House in Millbrae Monday night has been issued by police. His general description is: 20 years old, 5 feet 2 inches to 5-6 tall, 110 to 150 pounds, long dark uncombed hair and wearing wire framed glasses. He was armed with a small automatic pistol and wore blue jeans and an army green coat, police learned.

BRIGHT LIGHTS BY ★ LLOYD JOHNSON

Moonraker Surf Brunch Is Sunday Morn Treat

Pacific's Nick Gust is an astounding businessman. The hardworking Gust is the proud proprietor of three outstanding food establishments, all within conversational distance of each other. And we're talking about the original Nick's at Rockaway Beach, The Moonraker, and The Papagayo Room — all Gust family creations. If you're entertaining friends of family and would like to really impress them with something out of the ordinary, Nick recently inaugurated a fabulous "Surf Brunch" (from 11 a.m. to 3 p.m.) in The Moonraker that will have everyone applauding you as a host. What could be nicer than an enjoyable meal while taking in a vista view of Pacific's beautiful coastline at Rockaway Beach... If you're headed for Nevada and a weekend of fun and play, your Bright Lights suggest you contact Park Avenue Tours, with several locations in the Bay Area to serve you. Special refund trips to Lake Tahoe and Reno are available, depending on the length of stay and the days of the week.

COUNTRY-FOLK-COMEDY — Cisco and Boston Mason Show is appearing in the lounge of Russo's Distillery, San Bruno, for an indefinite engagement. They boast of having one of the best girl bass players to be found on the musical show circuit — and her name is Shelly Huntley. See them entertain in the lounge Thursday, Friday and Saturday evenings.

Augie Rosasco—George Taylor Bicycle Experts

Early morning sights in San Francisco Golden Gate Park: Exposition Fish Grotto's Augie Rosasco and his advertising man, "young" George Taylor, who also excels in "Boss Dice," pedaling a bicycle "built for two" miles and miles through the wooded lanes. "Best exercise in the world," confided Augie. Personally, we'll take the local Health Spa for our "ups and downs"... The charming Red Cottage restaurant in Menlo Park is known for its dazzling array of dishes, but none deserves more praise than chef Billy Valle's superb Cannelloni. This is just one of many specialties that Valle enjoys preparing... Joe Ercole can pour a mean cocktail! As co-owner and senior guiding force of the Leaning Tower restaurant, Joe is often drawn into serving as bartender during the frantic rush hours. You better believe that he was steadily pouring for an hour and a half during Monday's noon hour... Warren Squires' schedule is completely turned around. Warren, chef-co-owner of the Mills Square restaurant in San Mateo, has been working the night shift since the 24-hour service policy went into effect. This means he reports to work around 11 p.m., and goes to bed when everyone else is getting up.

Doros "Home Plate" For Giants

With the 1972 baseball season well under way, Don Dianda is finding many of the players on visiting teams as well as some of the Giants lunching or dining at Doros. Many of the visiting players have told Don Dianda that his food is the best they have had in any city in which they play... By popular demand, a new item has been added to the dinner menu in the Encore Room at the Rodeway Inn. Ted Downes, general manager of this South San Francisco hotel located on the Airport Strip, calls the new entree (Steak and Lobster Tail) "Democrat and Republican"... Another golden anniversary was commemorated in the Mediterranean Room at Bertolucci's, in South San Francisco. Celebrating 50 years of marriage were Mr. and Mrs. Whitley, who were joined by family and friends for a festive dinner party... The House of Troy in San Carlos holds much appeal for one and all, and owner Sal Campagna deserves compliments as he continues to meet the demands of good food and service. The selective menu includes their specialty of the house — a complete Filet Mignon dinner. Open for dinner seven days a week, with luncheon served Mondays through Fridays.

Chef Frederic Chinese Food Expert

Chinese food is the international offering every Wednesday night in the restaurant of Half Moon Bay Inn. Chef Frederic Hodge's Chinese cuisine is deemed so fine that patrons have requested he offer it every Wednesday. There is also a choice from several items on the regular dinner menu... Jim Hazlette, general manager of The Ranch Inn, located in the Serramonte Shopping Center, has announced plans for the grandest Mother's Day celebration in the restaurant's history. A Champagne Brunch will be served from 9:30 a.m. to 2:30 p.m. Mother's Day dinner will be served from 12 noon. Dinner prices will include complimentary champagne. Large groups can be easily accommodated. For further information and reservations, call the restaurant in advance... It's a rare treat to hear the mellow, natural sound of the jazz guitar. And such a treat is the Bruce Henkin Trio, playing Wednesday, Thursday, Friday and Sunday evenings at The Deck House in Sausalito.

BRIGHT LIGHTS BY LLOYD JOHNSON

Quarter Horses Continue To Attract Race Fans

Quarter-Horses, the true sprinters of horse racing, are now running nightly (except Sundays and Mondays) at Bay Meadows in San Mateo. First race is 7:45 p.m., with the nine-race program including a Daily Double (first and second races) and Exactas on the fourth, seventh and ninth races. These events are all around a quarter-mile, a distance which the quarter-horse can cover faster than any other. The Bay Meadows meet is sponsored by Peninsula Horse Racing Association, which approves the elegance that marked quarter-horse racing in Colonial times. Cocktails and dinner are served from 6:30 p.m. on race nights; diners can see the action from their tables... Rene Chagniot, dapper host-co-owner of La Cigogne French restaurant in downtown San Mateo, suggests Poulet Scoblianka (breast of chicken) as prepared by Fernand Wagner, an award winning chef. This modestly priced entree is one of several "house specialties" listed on the extensive menu... Exchange information about each and every ship passing through the Bay is broadcast over the loudspeaker system at The Franciscan, which offers a fine view of the Bay and skyline of San Francisco, as well as Marine.

UNTRUE RUMOR — Contrary to rumors, the Donati brothers, Reno and Julio, have NOT sold their interest in the New Southern restaurant. What is more, they have no intention of doing so. Sharing ownership of this popular South San Francisco restaurant, along with the Donatis, is Nick Sbarra.

Silver Anniversary For The Silver Moon

On Saturday, May 6, Frank Ratto and "Gino" Giovacchini will be celebrating the Silver Anniversary of their Silver Moon in Daly City. These two gents, who first met when working together at Colombo's Bakery in Oakland, banded together to form and operate one of the most successful lounge operations ever to open on the Peninsula. After 25 years in business, they've decided to hold an appropriate celebration. So, on Saturday, May 6, they will offer a free buffet all day for all who drop in. What's more, the Silver Moon's cocktail prices will revert back to those asked on the opening date, May 6, 1947. And judging by the number of regulars who frequent this lounge, Gino and Frank can expect to be in business for another 25 years. Here's hoping Bright Lights is around to help these two popular lounge owners celebrate their Golden Anniversary... In the relaxed main dining room at the Shirt Tail in Palo Alto, you gaze out at a small rock garden. Waitresses wear attractive Dutch girl costumes. Ross MacKay serenades with songs and guitar selections... Skipper Lucien Sabella is at the helm of A. Sabella's, which has been a dining landmark on San Francisco's Fisherman's Wharf since 1920. The youthful Lucien is the latest of four generations of Sabellas to carry on the tradition of providing fine food and drink for thousands of native San Franciscans and visitors to the area... The Golden Pavilion restaurant in Los Altos, which specializes in advanced Chinese cuisine, and is under the supervision of its president and founder Colonel George Chow, (U.S. Army Ret.), won a "two star" listing in the fourteenth edition of the Mobil Travel Guide. The adjoining Golden Pavilion Motor Inn, with 56 deluxe rooms, a pool and landscaped patio, also won a listing in the national travel guidebook, which is considered one of the country's best known.

Elephant 'n Castle Rated "T" For Terrific Dinner

"An all you can eat dinner for the price of a sandwich" is the way Betty and Ed Coffman put it at their Elephant 'n Castle in Redwood City. Rated "T" for terrific, the $1.75 buffet table offers an array of hot dish favorites, plus salads galore, numerous jello molds, home baked rolls, and vegetables. "How can we do it?" say The Coffmans, who are the original owners of Ed's Chuck Wagons, of eight years ago. "We have a seating capacity for 300 persons, which pretty well explains the turn-over situation." Open for dinner daily, except Monday, from 4 p.m. to 10 p.m.; Sundays, 12 noon to 8 p.m. Children nine years and under are 10 cents per year. Look for the big "castle" — it's across from Gemco on El Camino Real... Luncheon tip: Scottish Beef Pit, one of several menu items available during the noon hour at Ken Gilley's Prince of Wales in San Mateo. Or, if you're a hearty eater, try Ken's Bangers and Mash with its ample helpings... Like to enjoy really rare fine wines with dinner? L'Auberge in Atherton has a list which includes not one or two, but many good years of vintages like Chateau Latour and Gevrey Chambertin and Fernand Vergeleses. Louie Fruttschi, maitre d', is the resident connoisseur.

Enrico Romano Now The "Sheik Of Sausage"

The incomparable Enrico Romano, who operates the very popular Romano's Italian restaurant in Rockaway Beach, Pacifica, is none other than the "Sheik of Sausage." Enrico is famed throughout the Coastside for his mouth-watering pizzas, be they small, medium or large... The Iron Gate, a beautiful new gourmet restaurant in Belmont, is now open for lunch. Monday, May 1. "We'll be featuring luscious salads, hearty sandwiches, and many of our most popular gourmet Continental dishes," says Host Al Malatesta. "Prices will be moderate, and 'We'll be featuring luscious salads, hearty sandwiches.' The courteous service would be difficult to surpass. Our waiter the other evening was Art Rutherford, who was sincerely concerned with making our meal a true pleasure... A beautiful view of the rugged Pacific Ocean is available at Torres' Beach restaurant, located in Montara on the Coastside. Owned and operated by Frank and Fannie Torres, this unique dining spot has long been a favorite of diners who enjoy a scenic drive before settling down to a remarkably flavorful meal... Phil Lehr received phone calls from Chicago, Detroit and New York this week reserving dinner parties in the elegant Wellington Room of Phil Lehr's Steakery, in downtown San Francisco, during the big Red Cross Convention which opened Monday.

Moorby Gets

Appointment

Burlingame Fire Chief Reginald Moorby has been appointed to a four-year term on the California Communications Advisory Board by Gov. Ronald Reagan.

THIRD GRADE students from Parkside School did something for San Mateo's environment the other day. They turned out in force to clean up and renovate Parkside Playground, showing their interest and concern. In addition they are enlisting the

Returning to College

Veterans Have a Rough Time

Returning Vietnam veterans have a rough time of it. Many are maimed, many are emotionally scarred, and many are shunned by family and friends as anti-heroes who took part in an unpopular war.

For the veteran who is a prospective college student, return to the campus adds another dimension to his problems. "Most college students are not enamored with the veteran, and he's at the mercy of red tape in the federal agencies and colleges

Mark Stephens, a College of San Mateo student and veteran of the Vietnam era.

After an honorable discharge from the navy in 1970, Mark enrolled at CSM and has just been elected student body vice president. "You wouldn't believe the hassles I went through," he states. "I knew the navy had plans that would help the veteran in his readjustment, but they weren't well communicated. I heard from friends about the possibility of early release, and I applied for and received an eight-month 'early out.' But by the time I got to school, everyone had already registered and few courses were left to choose from." Mark feels that servicemen need information on the procedures in applying for Veterans Administration benefits and on college admission policies.

One of the agencies who is set up to help the serviceman and his family is the American National Red Cross. Mark Stephens was one of a small group of students called to review veterans' needs in the spring of 1971 by Dean Weston of College of San Mateo who is also a member of the Service to Military Families Committee of the San Mateo Regional Red Cross. As a result of his involvement with the Red Cross and his personal commitment to helping fellow veterans, Mark has been asked to address the 1972 National Red Cross Convention to be held in San Francisco April 30 to May 3.

Mark thinks the key word is "communications," and he expects to tell Red Cross delegates from across the nation about his college adjustment problems. He will be a panelist for the Service to Military Families Session on Tuesday, May 2 at the St. Francis Hotel.

Some of the information he plans to communicate involves the need to alert servicemen about easier entry or re-entry into school. "Let's advise him of the available resources for financial help, especially the man with a wife and children," he states. "If there is a long delay in getting benefit money, a veteran may not be able to take advantage of school and training opportunities. Sometimes a guy goes in to 'sign up for the GI money' and waits for several months until the first check arrives." He has since learned that some veterans can receive government loans through the college's Financial Aids Office. "With my separation orders, I received a packet of information concerning VA benefits, and a mumbled explanation that they were outdated and complicated, anyway. There was no mention of Red Cross help if I needed it, because I suppose he thought I knew of their service," Mark continues. "I was only aware of Red Cross' involvement in helping servicemen in cases of family emergencies. I never knew that they are interested in helping servicemen find jobs, obtaining temporary funds for schooling or financial emergencies."

Even with better communication from the military, the colleges need to be more aware of the particular problems for the veteran student, according to Stephens. Mark states that "if colleges reviewed their application forms looking specifically for veterans, they could then better advise them. And the vets should be made aware of the existence of a vet advisor. I didn't even know that he was there."

He feels that academic counseling prior to registration is important. "High school graduates have recently had orientation to college procedures and requirements, but the veteran has not," reports the 25-year-old

New Report Says

Transit Could Spur Growth In Some Areas

By LINWOOD DAY

A report completed last week for San Mateo County's cities and being mailed to them now says that rapid transit could be expected to effect a four per cent population growth, and development of new regional growth patterns at some transit centers in the urban corridor between Palo Alto and San Francisco.

While such areas as Hillsdale in San Mateo are stable and would be little changed, other areas might see redevelopment, and generation of radial spheres of influence, the report, called "Bayside Transit Impact Analysis," indicates.

Mark Cohen, who organized the report, along with Don Newmark and Eugene Masciarelli (all of the county planning staff), does not feel that transit development would imperil the quality of life in San Mateo County.

That is the finding of one reporter, he said. It is not the finding of the staff.

"We did not make value judgements. We really don't know," Cohen said. "The impact of transit in this way would depend entirely upon the policies of the communities involved, and their reaction to the situation. There are too many imponderables to make a judgment."

"Our report," Cohen said, "is a study of the impact of rapid transit upon the cities of San Mateo County so that we can deal with it. Although to some extent it should be used as criteria for evaluation of rapid transit, in no way should it indicate the overall desirability of transit here."

There are, he said, factors not taken up, such as financial feasibility of rapid transit, movement of people through the county — noting the rapid growth of Santa Clara County; tax base analysis in depth and so forth. All sorts of cultural factors come into play, he said. A section of the report deals with San Francisco International Airport. Using the data of an Association of Bay Area Governments study, the county planning team found that transit is not the key to determining Airport development.

"The passenger level at San Francisco airport depends more on the level of fixed demand and the lack of comparable service at other Bay Area airports, as well as income and population growth than it does on accessibility," Cohen said.

He said data used to determine this came from the Regional Airport Systems Study prepared by ABAG for the Bay Area Airports — a study nearing completion.

The Transit Impact report warns against possible private development without regard to planning and on a piecemeal basis, that could occur with rapid transit. It bases such findings on market pressure upon existing uses.

While the development around the BART terminal in Daly City is discussed, Cohen said today that it does not mean such development is bound to occur in other cities. He said the Daly City situation is unique, and "depends upon a set of circumstances existing in that community."

The report indicates that previous studies have developed data related only to economic feasibility in rapid transit development. Many growth assumptions have faded with the advent of near-zero population growth, the planners say.

Initial impact of rapid transit, the analysis says, would be its use by airport personnel and others for commute purposes. However, this would in turn generate redevelopment, depending on policy of cities involved, around the transit points.

This could result in development of radial spheres of influence about the transit points, with commercial and garden apartment development there. A separate study of coastal development is underway. It could interact with transit development.

Newmark has prepared a supplemental study for Belmont. He found the possibility of extensive clearance of marginal commercial uses around Ralston Avenue and Old County Road, intensive commercial development, and possibly professional development at Ralston and El Camino Real and expansion of the central business district into adjacent residential areas possible, it was indicated.

NOTICE TO CONTRACTORS

1. NOTICE IS HEREBY GIVEN that the Board of Supervisors of the County of San Mateo, State of California, will receive sealed bids for the furnishing of all labor, tools, materials, equipment, transportation and services required for the Installation of Power Outlets for Closed Circuit Television Cameras in the San Mateo County Jail, Hall of Justice and Records, Redwood City, California, on or before the 16th day of May, 1972, at 2:00 p.m., and will be opened in public in the Chambers of said Board of Supervisors at or about 2:00 p.m. of that day in said Hall of Justice and Records.

2. Each bid shall be in accordance with drawings, specifications, and contract documents prepared therefor now on file with the Purchasing Agent, County of San Mateo, Office Building Annex, Redwood City, California.

3. Drawings, specifications, and contract documents may be examined and copies obtained at the office of the Director of Building Construction and General Services, 590 Hamilton, County Office Building, Redwood City, California, upon deposit of $10.00 for said documents, which deposits will be forfeited if the Contractor fails to return the drawings and specifications in good condition within ten (10) days of the bid opening date.

4. A complete set of drawings, specifications and contract documents may be examined at the Office of the San Mateo County Director of Building Construction, County Government Center, County Office Building, Redwood City, California.

5. Bidders are responsible to see that they obtain a complete set of plans, specifications and contract documents covering the work upon which they submit a bid.

6. Bids shall be submitted upon proposal forms furnished and bound in the specifications and in accordance with regulations, as set forth in the General Conditions, and shall be accompanied by a certified or cashier's check or bond for ten per cent (10%) of the bid as noted in said General Conditions.

7. Bids shall be sealed and filed with the Clerk of the Board of Supervisors of the County of San Mateo at the Hall of Justice and Records, Redwood City, California, on or before the 16th day of May, 1972, at 2:00 p.m., and will be opened in public in the Chambers of said Board of Supervisors at or about 2:00 p.m. of that day in said Hall of Justice and Records.

8. The Board of Supervisors of the County of San Mateo, State of California, reserves the right to reject any and all bids, alternate bids, or unit prices and/or waive any irregularities in any bid received.

9. No bidder may withdraw his bid for a period of thirty days after the date set for the opening thereof.

10. WAGE RATES: The Board of Supervisors has determined and has published the rates of prevailing wages in the County of San Mateo, in which the work is to be performed, for each craft or type of workman or mechanic needed to perform the contract. Said prevailing rates are set forth on listing, copies of which are set forth in the specifications for the work in the offices of the County Clerk, Purchasing Agent and Director of Building Construction. Crafts and rates per hour for each craft or type of workman or mechanic needed to perform this contract are listed under Wage Rates, Instructions to Bidders.

11. The prevailing rates so determined are based on a 8-hour day, 40-hour week, except as otherwise noted. Existing agreements between the Building Trades and the Construction Industry groups relative to overtime, holidays and other special provisions shall be recognized.

12. It shall be mandatory upon the Contractor, and upon any subcontractors under him, to pay not less than the said specific rates to all laborers, workmen or mechanics employed by them in the execution of this contract.

13. A Bond will be required for the faithful performance of the contract in amount of not less than One Hundred Per Cent (100%) of the amount of the bid, and a bond will be required to guarantee the payment of wages for services engaged and all bids contracted for materials used in the performance of the contract in an amount of not less than One Hundred Per Cent (100%) of the Bid.
